Snow Marks Start Of Winter Season

After weeks of indecision, winter finally came to Marion over the Thanksgiving holiday.

It brought with it a blanket of snow and the usual rash of traffic accidents which accompany the season's first good snowfall.

The snow began falling Wednesday, continued in flurries on Thanksgiving day and a new fall occurred last night and this morning, covering the ground to a depth of about one and one-half inches.

THE SNOW IS expected to continue the rest of the day and on into tonight dumping from one to three more inches on the ground. Weather forecasts call for a high temperature today between 30 and 36 degrees. Tonight's low will be between 22 and 28. Last night's low was 28 degrees.

While the snow on streets and highways was quickly pounded into slush by the wheels of traffic, the roads remained slippery and hazardous. Police and state highway patrolmen urged drivers to use extreme caution.

THEY HAD THIS other specific advise about snow-time driving:

Check your brakes, windshield wiper blades, defrosters and headlights, and taillights, to make sure all are in good operating condition. Use snow tires, or better yet, tire chains. A car equipped with conventional tires traveling 20 miles per hour on hard-packed snow can be stopped only in 60 to 70 feet. Winterized tires can stop the car in 60 feet, the National Safety Council reports. Tire chains cut the distance to 40 feet.

When wiping off snow from the windshield, don't forget to clear off the rear window as well. Don't drive if your vision is impaired by fog or frost on the windows.

START SLOWLY, in second gear if necessary, to avoid spinning the rear wheels.

If caught in an icy rut, or in a ditch, and if attempts to "inch out" by throttling the engine just fast enough to avoid stalling fail, try placing stones or cinders under the wheels. Try deflating the tires to assure a better grip.

If caught in a skid, don't jam on the brakes. This only makes it worse. And don't wrench the steering wheel violently. Instead try gentle brake application, and go easy on the steering wheel, righting the course of the automobile gradually

MARION POLICE and state patrolmen from the Marion post investigated five accidents yesterday and today. Besides those, there were other unreported minor mishaps involving cars skidding into ditches or bumping each other.

All employes of the State Highway Department in Marion were reported on the job this morning No snow plowing was done, but the 22 men at the garage were dispatched to salt the highways to reduce icing.

City streets are being cleaned by about five crews of two men each on service department trucks. They were dispatched this morning, and are expected to work until the streets are free from ice and snow.

Senator Raps Benson Critics In Department

Beall Claims Speeches 'Ghost-Written' by Democratic Holdovers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Beall (R-MD) charged today that some aides of Secretary of Agriculture Benson have been "ghost writing" speeches unfairly attacking Benson's handling of farm problems.

Beall told a reporter a quiet inquiry is being made into what he said is "good evidence" that some Democratic holdover policy makers in the Department of Agriculture have written such speeches and slipped them to Democrats for delivery.

These employes and others, Beall said, also have supplied ideas and material to be worked into the texts of public addresses criticizing Benson.

He named no names, saying:

"I do know it's being done. I think Mr. Benson now knows it's been going on. There are dozens of these people—a core of disloyalty."

Benson was not reached immediately for comment.

Woman Killed In Crash on Icy Road in Hardin

Dayton Auto Skids Into Path of Another; Boy Hurt in Accident

Special to The Star

KENTON — Snow and ice-covered roads caused one traffic death in Hardin County on Thanksgiving Day. A seven-year-old boy was critically injured in another mishap in downtown Kenton last night.

Mrs. Myrtle Hardman, 66, of Dayton died at 2 p.m. Thursday at Hardin Memorial Hospital, three and a half hours after the car driven by her husband, Frederick, 67, skidded on the icy pavement of Route 68, five miles south of here, and crashed sideways into an oncoming car. Mrs. Hardman died of internal injuries and shock. Driver of the other car, Rex. Harris, 32, and his wife, Margaret Harris, 29, of Decker, Mich., were taken to San Antonio Hospital and were reported in "fair" condition. Harris suffered shock and body bruises while his wife sustained shock, body bruises and lacerations of the head and face.

Mr. Hardman was scheduled to be released from Hardin Memorial Hospital today. He suffered head lacerations, shock and body bruises.

The body was removed today to the Whitmer Funeral Home in Dayton. Only survivors in addition to the husband are two brothers.

At 6:50 p.m. Thursday, seven-year-old Ray Dunson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dunson of Keton was hit by a car about a half block from the city square. He was

Gouzenko Issue Left To Diplomats; Jenner Studies Data on Nine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) today left the issue of questioning Igor Gouzenko up to Canadian and U. S. diplomats and pressed forward on other fronts in his Communists-in-government probe.

He issued a statement which said the internal security subcommittee which he heads has nine former government employes, including Alger Hiss, "now under special scrutiny."

Seek To Fix Responsibility

"The subcommittee is trying to determine who was responsible for their continued employment, which in most cases, involved promotions, increased authority, continued access to government secrets, and increases in pay," the statement said last night.

It was thus apparent Jenner plans no further steps until there is a fresh exchange of views between Secretary of State Dulles and Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson.

Jenner's subcommittee has asked and been rejected, then asked again for Canadian permission to question Gouzenko. The one-time Russian Embassy code clerk, who put the finger on a big Canadian spy ring at Ottawa in 1945, is now a Canadian citizen living in police-guarded obscurity.

Canada has agreed to the Jenner subcommittee's second request provided (1) Gouzenko is willing to be interviewed, (2) the interview is confidential and under Canadian auspices and (3) the decision as to making public the information gleaned is left to Canada.

Would Hide Vital Data

Jenner objected to the last condition, saying his committee could not promise it would keep from Congress—and hence the public—any "evidence vital to the security of the United States." He asked Dulles to try for a different arrangement.

Gouzenko, when he tipped off Canadian authorities in 1945, said the Red spy ring in Canada had contacts in the United States. The Canadian government says the United States. The Canadian government says the United States has been kept fully informed and Gouzenko has nothing more to tell.

Soldier Admits To Slaying of Child in Tokyo

TOKYO, Saturday (AP)—The Army said today a U.S. sergeant had confessed to the strangulation slaying of 9-year-old Susan Rothschild last Saturday.

The announcement identified him as Sgt. Maurice I. Schick, 29, chief ward master of the U.S. Army hospital at Camp Zama.

The hospital is near the Sagamihara housing area where Susan's body, a gag stuffed in her mouth, was found in a drainage ditch.

Army authorities said Schick told them he had no intention of raping the girl and did not plan the murder before meeting her in a lightly populated area only two blocks from the home of her parents, Col. and Mrs. Jacquard Rothschild.

The brief army announcement said Schick confessed last night.

Schick's home town and other details of his statement were not available immediately.

U.S. Units in Pusan Threatened by Fire

PUSAN, Korea, Saturday (AP)—Flames 50 feet high roared out of control in this jammed seaport today, driving thousands of refugees through the crowded streets as it razed hundreds of clustered homes and shacks.

"We just don't know how bad it is," said one American officer. "No one can say now."

There were no immediate reports of deaths although it was almost certain some residents must have died in the flames.

Ike Expresses His Hopes for Lasting Peace

First Family Gives Thanks for Reunion, Close of Korean War

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower sat down to Thanksgiving dinner with his family last night, expressed deep gratitude for his son's safe return from Korea and voiced the fervent hope that American boys never have to go to war again.

"We are very, very thankful," the President said happily.

The dinner scene with a 39-pound turkey on the table was the trophy room of the Augusta National Golf Club.

Family All Present

With the President, carving knife in hand, were the First Lady; their son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower; and the three grandchildren — David, 5, Barbara Anne, 4, and Susan, 2.

Eisenhower wore the green jacket which denotes membership in the golf club, and a bright yellow tie with the club emblem—a map of the United States and a golf flag marking Augusta.

Like Thousands of Others

News cameramen present reported the President spoke with deep feeling in declaring at the dinner table:

"America has countless things to be thankful for on this Nov. 26. But I think most important is this:

"For the first Thanksgiving in the last four we sit down to the traditional Thanksgiving feast without the fear of the casualty list hanging over us.

"We no longer have to worry about the killing in Korea.

"Now, my wife and I are just

U.N. Skeptical On Red Claims Of A-Weapons

Observers See Boast As Attempt To Cover Defeat of Vishinsky

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Western Diplomats were skeptical today of a hint by Andrei Y. Vishinsky that Russia may have types of atomic and other weapons that the West hasn't.

The chief Soviet delegate to the U.N. dropped his intimation yesterday in the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee just before that group rejected every proposal in his package plan for easing world tension.

Distracts Attention

Some delegates suggested privately that Vishinsky had timed his remark to distract attention from his defeat, which he could foresee. It was agreed his speech got more attention than the vote.

The Vishinsky peace package called for a ban on all atomic and hydrogen weapons, a one-third reduction in the armed forces of the big powers, the abandonment of all foreign bases and the elimination of propaganda of a hostile nature.

Speech Studied

Just what Vishinsky said about Russia's new weapons was still being disputed today. He spoke in Russian and U. N. translators turned out two versions.

The version relayed to the delegates as Vishinsky spoke said that the Western Powers "do not have everything in this field of atomic and other weapons that the Soviet Union already has." Other Russian experts went back to a tape recording of the original speech

Parade Here Tomorrow Will Launch Yule Season

The Christmas season will descend with full force on Marion Saturday when the annual Christmas parade gets underway at 1 p.m. Again based on a religious theme, the parade this year will have as its title, "Peace on Earth."

With churches in the city and the Marion County Ministerial Association cooperating with the Retail Merchants Division of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, the parade this year promises to be one of the most impressive in the history of the city.

SANTA CLAUS will not be forgotten, either. He'll ride the streets in a special float, getting off at his Courthouse headquarters. He'll remain here until the day before Christmas.

Nine different churches have made floats to enter in this year's pageant. The parade will be led by the Caledonia High School band.

About two blocks behind the religious part of the pageant will come the Santa Claus section. This will be led by the Harding High School Band.

Title of this year's parade is taken from the first float in the line of march, "Peace on Earth" presented by the Central Christian Church.

OTHER CHURCHES entering floats and the title of their floats follow: Wesley Methodist Church, "The Prophecies"; St. Paul's Episcopal Church, "The Annunciation"; Calvary EUB Church, "Glory to God"; Greenwood EUB Church, "Christian Christmas at Home"; Epworth Methodist Church 'Prince of Peace"; Prospect Street Methodist Church, "They Came Bearing Gifts"; Trinity Baptist Church, "The Light of The World"; and First Evangelical and Re-

Offers Berlin As Place for Conferences

Move Feared Preface To New Demand for Red China Recognition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has offered to meet with the Western Big Three to discuss critical European problems, abandoning its earlier insistence that Red China first be accepted by the West in the councils of great powers.

But officials here said today it was by no means certain the Red China issue would not still block any profitable discussions between East and West.

China Issue is Key

A digest of the note Russia sent last night to the United States, Britain and France became available in Paris. It indicated if a Big Four meeting of foreign ministers were held the Soviets would immediately press for a broader follow-up meeting including Communist China.

Informed observers here said the result might be that instead of further postponing a four-power meeting by dispatching repeated notes on the Chinese question, the Russians conceivably might allow the meeting to assemble, and then stall discussion of European problems while the Chinese issue was worked over again.

In any case, the Russian note was under intensive study today by Secretary of State Dulles and his principal policy advisers to determine whether it is a serious step toward easing world tensions or a clever stab at the unity of the West.

No 'Strings' Noted

Available information in Washington and Paris was that the note laid down no pre-conditions for a Big Four meeting, but gave clear evidence of Russia's continuing preoccupation with the status of Red China; that it proposed a meeting of foreign ministers without previous consultation on agenda, suggested Berlin as the meeting place and left the date open.

But there was immediate speculation here, in the British press and elsewhere abroad that the Russians might really be trying to maneuver the downfall of French Premier Laniel's government and cripple the Western Big Three conference opening in Bermuda a week from today.

The timing of the Russian announcement, and the thing it didn't

Note Prompts Cautious Word From British

LONDON (AP)—The British foreign office cautioned today that Russia's willingness to talk things over with the West does not necessarily mean a basic change in the Soviet attitude to world problems.

A foreign office spokesman said a Soviet note expressing such willingness emphasized also the Russians would press at Big Four talks for a wider conference to include Communist China.

The Russians, the spokesman added, gave no indication what level they sought for any Five Power meeting.

The British spokesman said he wasn't ready to comment directly on the Soviet note itself until London consulted with Washington and Paris.

Western diplomats in London regarded the Soviet acceptance of an invitation to Big Four talks as a carefully timed propaganda move aimed at undermining the French government rather than a change in Kremlin attitude.

The Western powers gave indications they would come back with an answer right away.

The French foreign office, in its commentary, said the Russian note was essentially concerned with German rearmament and "on that it appears that the Soviet position has not changed. It still opposes German rearmament, which the government of France feels is necessary to the security of Western Europe."

The statement said the note makes no reference to Western demands for free German Wide elections before establishment of any provisional all - German government.

Dean Bargains Over Neutrals At Peace Talks

May Take 'Observer' Role if Russia Attends Session as Belligerent

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur Dean indicated today the Allies will agree to Red demands that neutral observers be invited to a Korean peace conference—if Russia attends as a Communist belligerent.

Dean stressed that nonbelligerent observers would have a voice but no vote.

Summarizing items "on which both sides can probably reach agreement," Dean made several stipulations regarding what he called "nonvoting observers."

Can't Sign Terms

The spokesman for 16 United Nations which fought in Korea is not authorized to approve invitations for neutrals during the negotiations to set up a peace conference.

Informed quarters emphasized, however, that he would not have told the Communists "both sides can probably reach agreement" on something he could not deliver.

Meanwhile, the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission rebuffed the U. N. Command for the second time when it turned down a request that 15 explainers be authorized to interview 2 Americans, 1 Briton and 328 South Koreans who have refused to come home.

The commission again set a limit of five Allied explainers.

Start Not Set

The U. N. Command has not indicated when it will start trying to persuade the balky prisoners to change their minds.

Communist efforts to woo home about 20,000 unrepatriated Chinese and Koreans remained stalled by Red refusal to accept rule changes.

Only 26 working days are left before the Dec. 23 deadline for winding up the interviews.

The repatriation commission also ruled that it has not jurisdiction over three North Korean soldiers who fled to safety at Panmunjom Nov. 19. The decision cleared the way for eventual release of the trio in South Korea.

30 Safe After U.S. Plane Ditches in Sea Off Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—Twenty-five passengers and five crewmen last night climbed out of a ditched Army transport plane five minutes before it sank in the Japan Sea.

The Air Force said the C46 was coming in for a ground controlled blind landing at the U.S. Air Force base at Miho, on the southern tip of Honshu, missed the landing strip, and was forced to ditch about three miles off the coast. It sank 10 minutes later.

A crash boat picked up all 25 passengers and five crewmen and brought them back to the base.

Among the passengers were 10 members of a USO troupe.

Premier Laniel Receives Vote Of Confidence

Passes Crucial Test On Foreign Policy by Margin of 17 Votes

PARIS (AP)—Unofficial tallies today indicated Premier Joseph Laniel had received a vote of confidence in the National Assembly. The unofficial figures gave Laniel a majority of about 17 votes.

The vote came at the end of a tension charged day in the National Assembly's debate on French foreign policy. The vote reflected reluctance to throw Laniel out of office on the eve of the Bermuda conference and just after Russia had offered to meet the Western Big Three to discuss world tensions.

Early in the day it seemed Laniel would have difficulty in getting approval from the deputies of his policy on European unity. Then at one point Foreign Minister Georges Bidault threatened to resign because he felt he had been slighted by the premier.

At the afternoon session, however, the personal animosities faded as the deputies sought to give the outward appearance of harmony.

Laniel pleaded for the life of his wobbly government just eight days before a scheduled Big Three conference in Bermuda and the possibility of a Big Four conference with Russia.

"I do not want a government with reduced powers and limited responsibilities," he declared gravely at a showdown debate on foreign policy.

The climax to the two-week de-

Fire Destroys Prospect Store

Sparks Station Burns In Thanksgiving Blaze

Fire of undetermined origin, early Thursday morning destroyed the combined grocery store and service station operated by Dale Sparks in Prospect. The unofficial damage estimate indicates the loss will run into several thousand dollars.

The blaze was discovered at 2:30 a.m. Thursday by Mrs. George Roller who resides across the street from the station. She notified Chief Paul B. Gast of the Prospect Volunteer Fire department.

About 35 members of the volunteer group responded to the call and spent about an hour extinguishing the blaze with the use of two pumpers.

The fire was investigated by Raymond LaMonda of the state fire marshal's office.

Make It Yourself

Man-Tailored Shirt Has That Professional Look

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The man-tailored shirt is the current particular love of teenagers, college and career girls alike. It's at home on campus or in office, worn with a suit or with a separate skirt in town, with slacks or shorts in the country.

When made of washable cotton flannel, the skirts may double for winter sports wear or team with the inevitable jeans of the school girl. Whatever their fabric, these shirts are successful only when they are carefully tailored, with meticulous finishing detail.

When making a man-tailored shirt, be sure your fabric is sanforized, advise local sewing center experts, so that it will not shrink out of fit.

In the making, special attention should be given to collars and cuffs, if you want your shirt to have that custom-made look. Here is the correct procedure for making the collar:

After cutting out fabric, following directions given on the pattern, place two sides of collar with right sides together and muslin facing on top. Thus, when collar is turned right side out, facing will be inside, between the two sides of the collar.

Machine stitch down one side of collar, stopping at the corner. Leaving needle in the fabric, raise presser foot and pivot (or turn) fabric so that point of collar is diagonal. Lower presser foot, take one back stitch and then three forward stitches and another back stitch. Raise presser foot, pivot again, lower presser foot and proceed to stitch along straight edge. Repeat the same process at the other point. Pivoting is done by stopping the machine at the corner, lifting presser foot, leaving needle in fabric and turning fabric so you get a true corner in stitching.

When outside seam is completed in this manner, reinforce each corner with five or six diagonal-slanted back stitches.

The next step is to blend collar points to remove bulk. This means to clip off corners just above back-stitching. To blend straight edges, trim collar seam to ¼ inch and then trim facing to slightly less than ¼ inch.

Press collar, turn to right side and press again.

A well-fitting neckline is essential to a well-fitting shirt. Special attention also should be given to shoulder seams, to achieve a flat, smooth effect. Sleeves and cuffs present no problem if you check sleeve-length in pattern and make adjustments before cutting.

Both collar and cuffs should be faced with heavy unbleached muslin or light canvas to achieve a professional tailored look, and to make them hold their shape. Pressing each section as you work helps keep the garment in shape.

SMOOTH TAILORING . . . That's the secret of success for this good-looking shirt, made of washable sanforized cotton flannel in an interesting print simulating striped tweed. Made by Simplicty Pattern 4081.

New Mattress Designed For Haters of Pillows

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A boon for pillow-haters soon may come to market, thanks to a 25-year-old girl who's dreamed up a different type of mattress.

Pat Moreell, daughter of Adm. Ben Moreell, board chairman of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., likes the softness of a pillow, but not the heads-up effect. So, Pat invented a mattress with an indentation big enough to accommodate a regular pillow or a foam-rubber cushion, so that the head has a soft base but the body is perfectly horizontal.

Pat used two sales arguments in her calls on potential manufacturers.

Novelty — "People have been sleeping on the same shaped mattress for generations."

Health — "Better blood circulation is possible when the head rests level with the mattress, and loss of hair often has been attributed to poor circulation. Perhaps there would be less baldness with my new mattress."

Most manufacturers discouraged her but recently she convinced the Sealy Mattress Co. and the Firestone Rubber Co. the idea was sound. Now, they have promised to start production in single and double bed sizes.

Her luck makes prophets of her prep school classmates who stated in a yearbook: "She's usually busy dreaming up ideas."

Women Drivers Passing Men in Highway Speed

DETROIT, Mich. (UP)—Women are outdoing the nation's male drivers in burning up the highways, according to a survey revealed by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Ernest P. Davis, the club's safety and traffic director, said a 10 state survey, covering 15,000 miles of summer driving, destroyed the male idea that women generally are slow and cautious drivers.

One test made in a New England state revealed that 53 per cent of all the speeders warned were women, he added.

Two tests showed that 99 per cent of all drivers ignored speed limits of 15 and 25 miles an hour posted in small communities, Davis said.

Emergency Service Aids Residents of Newport

CHICAGO (UP) — Householders at Newport, R. I., with flooded basements or clogged sewer lines can call on the city for help.

The Newport city government has set up an emergency service that even the plumbers like, the American Public Works Association reports.

The emergency unit is on call day and night. City officials say that the plumbers approve of the system because the city has the necessary equipment for such jobs which many plumbers lack.

It's not free. The city bills the householder for the costs. Should a householder refuse to pay, he's blacklisted. The service will not respond to his next emergency appeal.

Probers Report Plane Building Metal Shortage

Senators Summon Air Force Chief; Titanium Supply Called Critical

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senator today called Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott for questioning on a report that U.S. military air superiority is threatened by a shortage of a tough lightweight metal.

The metal is titanium, derived from ilmenite and other abundant ores and used in alloys to replace stainless steel in jet engines and airframes. Its heat resistance and light weight are coveted by designers of faster-than-sound aircraft.

Sen. Malone (R-Nev), chairman of a subcommittee investigating availability of critical materials, said he wants to question Talbott on earlier testimony by Air Force Brig. Gen. Kern D. Metzger.

Metzger told the group this week "there is no assurance that we can build the aircraft that are necessary to us" even if current titanium goals are met.

Metzger said maximum anticipated supplies of titanium would produce 2,000 fighter aircraft a year within the next five years, no bombers and no supporting planes. This, he said, would not be enough "to win any war."

Malone said the Office of Defense Mobilization and the General Services Administration cut back an original Defense Department estimate of need for the metal from 35,000 to 22,000 tons a year. He said the two agencies did not give ample help to possible new procedures. Present output is 2,000 tons a year, he said.

Metzger said shortages of the metal pose a "drastic bottleneck." The basic problem, he said, is to extend enough government assistance to new producers to encourage them to build new plant capacity.

Thieves in Cleveland Get Thanksgiving Haul

CLEVELAND (AP)—Laying in supplies for what might have been a big underworld Thanksgiving celebration, thieves ook 50 turkeys, 90 chickens, 15 geese, 20 cartons of cigarettes, 2 boxes of cigars and $280, police said yesterday in compiling reported losses from three separate stores.

YULE LIGHTS TO GO ON

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 50,000 Christmas lights in Public Square will be turned on late today after a ceremony led by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze. Between now and Dec. 22 nearly three score bands, choruses and choirs will present musical programs in the square at noon and evening.

'Cease-Fire' Shot in Korea

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood has finally made a bold attempt to give the home front public a three-dimensional picture of war—actual war.

The result is "Cease Fire!", the story of an infantry patrol on its last battle action just before the truce went into effect in Korea

Paramount pictures went to a lot of trouble to make it an honest authentic simple film that shows combat as it actually is.

It shot the movie in Korea battle areas and used real doughboys—members of a single platoon—instead of trained actors. The sounds and sights of war are realistic, and a great deal of the feeling is there. But war has a fourth dimension—smell—and you can't film the smells of smoke and dust and death and fatigue and blood, the integral odors of war.

There are many things right in "Cease Fire!" It shows the terrible hardship of hill fighting. It shows some of war's immoral, deadly but fascinating beauty—such as napalm bombs bursting and lacing the land in patterns of flame and smoke.

You get a clear and accurate idea of how complicated and delicately responsible a thing a modern fighting army is—a step by step account of how in a few minutes it can bring the firepower of tanks, artillery, and land and carrier-based aircraft to the rescue of a group of outnumbered infantrymen.

You also get a worm's-eye view of a soldier tensely probing with a bayonet for a buried foot mine in his path. A mistake of an inch—just a touch against the three tiny prongs sticking out—and death will explode among the group.

All these scenes are portrayed expertly by fighting men using the tools of their job. It is only when the real soldiers have to talk like real soldiers that they begin to sound like Hollywood actors. For some reason soldiers don't talk like themselves when they know a microphone is taking it down. The dialogue becomes stilted and sounds unnatural.

But "Cease Fire!" is certainly the year's noblest experiment in war pictures. It captures some of the heart-breaking loveliness and mind-cracking sordidness of Korea for those who never fought there, and will recall it for those who did fight there and left part of their youth behind them forever.

At its premiere here this week retired Gen. Mark Clark, former Far East commander, and other top brass praised the film for its realistic portrayal of the sacrifices of the U. S. fighting man in Korea. Radio and TV commentator Tex McCrary observed that instead of being called "Cease Fire!" the picture might, depending on events, more aptly be titled, "To Be Continued."

Eight of the all-GI cast were flown here for the premiere. A ninth man, Pfc Ricardo Carrasco of El Paso, Tex., couldn't make it.

Pfc. Carrasco, the only member of the patrol "killed" in the movie, volunteered four days after completing his film role to go on a real mission. A mortar bomb took his life.

His buddies at the premiere said they missed him—and would not forget him.

Police said he came here recently from Massillon, Ohio.

Galion Service Director Choice To Be Steffee

Special to The Star

GALION — It was announced today by Francis M. Schalip, Democratic mayor-elect of Galion, that his choice for service director when the new administration takes over Jan. 1, is Floyd Steffee. The appointment will be made soon after Schalip is sworn into office.

Steffee is completing his second term on City Council, as councilman of the first ward. His chairmanship of the streets and sewers committee of Council for four years has given him experience in this branch of the new duties he will assume as serivce director.

Steffee, 44, has been a resident of Galion and vicinity all of his life. For 20 years he worked at the Stratbury Manufacturing Co. The last three of which he was foreman. He has been associated with the Tuxedo Feed store for the past seven years.

Pentagon Has No New Word Of Missing GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defence Department said today it has no further information about 600 Americans once believed to be Communist captives but unaccounted for by the Reds.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said on a TV-radio broadcast last night that the Army had announced in September that some 900 Americans known to have been prisoners had not been acknowledged or exchanged by the Communists.

The Defense Department did make such an announcement in September. Information received since then, largely from returned American prisoners, has cut the number to about 600, a Pentagon spokesman said.

The 600 are included among the 7,995 Americans still listed as missing in action in Korea. The Defense Department has said the great majority of these missing must eventually be presumed dead for lack of any evidence to the contrary.

The Army said last week that about 4,000 officers and men, missing for more than one year, and about whom no information had been received, would be declared dead in January. The Air Force plans similar action for 170 airmen. The other services will follow the same procedure to comply with the Missing Persons Act.

Most of the information gleaned from returned Americans has added to the evidence of more deaths, both in action and in prison camps, than earlier estimates had indicated.

Crawford County Lions Guests of Galion Club

Special to The Star

GALION — A joint meeting of Lion's clubs of Crawford County was held in Galion Tuesday night at the junior high school, with the Galion Lions' Club as host to the group.

E. C. 'Curly' Baum, state secretary of the service organization, told of the eye research program of the Lions' clubs. Reynold Sentieri was toastmaster, and the program included vocal numbers by Lewis Girton.

During the dinner, music was furnished by Robert DeWitt, guitarist, John Fulton, xylonphonist, Gelnn DeWitt, bass viol. Songs were led by Elmer H. Culber with Al McConnell at the piano.

Clubs from Bucyrus, Crestline, and Galion, were represented, the Crestline club receiving the attendance plaque for having 75 per cent of the membership here.

The membership key was presented to J. Elwood Christman of the Galion club by Dr. Robert L Tract, junior deputy district governor. C. W. Bollinger of Mansfield, chairman of Zone 5, was present and spoke briefly. Guests also were present from Ontario.

Half of Morrow Wheat Crop Is Believed Lost

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—Approximately 50 percent of the 1954 Morrow County wheat crop is believed lost because of the extended fall drought, according to the county extension office.

County associate extension agent F. W. Dalrymple, predicted a 1954 crop of about 250,000 bushels compared to a crop of about 600,000 bushels. The past year's crop was a bumper crop, however, and compared to a crop of around 520,000 bushels in 1952.

Land which was planted to wheat this fall that didn't "catch" will probably be planted in oats and soybeans next spring Dalrymple said.

Ike Has Hope Inquiry Will Warn Parents

Senate Group Probing Juvenile Delinquents Hears From President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has expressed hope that a Senate investigation of juvenile delinquency will "alert our community leaders and all of our parents to the responsibility that is theirs.'

Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), chairman of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee conducting the investigation, released today a letter dated Nov. 19 from the President, who is holidaying in Augusta, Ga.

Aides of Hendrickson said the letter will be made part of the official group's record when hearings resume early next month.

Juvenile delinquency "is one of the most complex social problems facing the nation today," the President wrote. He called it "a problem filled with heartbreak."

"I know you share with me the fervent hope that your deliberations will result in sugestions for action which will reduce substantially the incalculable unhappiness which juvenile delinquency now causes our children, their parents, pastors, educators, and all who are concerned with the problem," the President said.

He promised assistance of executive agencies, including the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He approved the group's proposal for hearings in various cities, and observed:

"Although it is a problem of national importance, and one in which the federal government properly takes a keen interest, juvenile delinquency does vary from community to community in its nature and extent."

Children Petition For Dad's Release, Judge Grants Plea

SEATTLE (AP)—If you had been Municipal Judge John H. Neergaard would you have granted this plea?:

"Dear Judge Neergaard:

"You don't know us, but you put our daddy in jail (for drunkenness). I'm not blaming you because he had it coming, but would you please let him come home for Thanksgiving because every Thanksgiving and Christmas daddy says grace and it wouldn't be the same.

"Our daddy is . . .

"Please let our daddy come home."

Sincerely yours,
Mary, Jane and Jackie"

The judge did—and canceled the remainder of the sentence too.

Sardines go gourmet these days. Turn a French chef loose on a couple of cans of the Norway variety, and he comes up with such recipes as these for Sardines Orientale and Sardines with Shirred Eggs.

Sardines Orientale makes a perfect luncheon entree when prefaced by a soup and served with crusty hard rolls and a green salad. You need the rolls to dip into the wonderful sauce of this dish. For dessert, we suggest a fruit compote and thin rich brown-edged vanilla wafers.

Sardines with Shirred Eggs are a fine brunch dish. But do accompany them with a special bread. If there's a French bakery in your neighborhood maybe you can get Croissant sor Brioche — or if you're adventurous, you can make your own. Failing these, heated Parkerhouse, butter-flake or clover rolls will make mighty good substitutes. After the sardine-egg dish bring on a bowl of fresh pears, apples, grapes; top your pretty fruit arrangement with dates or figs. And don't forget to have lots of good hot strong coffee all through your brunch.

SARDINES ORIENTALE

Ingredients: 1 medium-size onion, 2 tablespoons olive oil, 1 pound firm tomatoes, 1 fat clove of garlic (crushed), 2 tablespoons cooking sherry, pinch of saffron (if available), salt and pepper to taste, one 3-ounce can Norway sardines.

Method: Peel onion; quarter and cut into thin strips; there should be about 1 cup. Heat olive oil in 8-inch skillet; add onion and cook slowly for about 10 minutes; it should be partly crisp and not browned. Meanwhile peel tomatoes by plunging them into boiling water; quarter and scoop out seeds with your fingers; chop; there should be a generous cupful. Add tomatoes, garlic, sherry, saffron (if used), salt and pepper to skillet. Cook slowly, stirring a few times, for about 10 minutes. Drain sardines, place half of them in two individual 6-inch heat-resistant glass pie plates; pour the sauce over; arrange remaining sardines over sauce. Bake in very hot (450 F) oven until bubbly—about 5 minutes. Serve at once in pie plates. Makes 2 large servings.

Note: One cup thoroughly

Television Craze Hits Ranks of Night Hunters

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP) — A curious result of the popularity of television and movies is that life is becoming safer for the southern possum.

The night-time sport of hunting this animal is fast losing popularity because more and more people prefer to stay in their comfortable homes instead of tramping the frosty woods behind a pack of possum dogs.

Conservation officials deplore the passing of the "time-honored southern sport," which they blame on the "trend of the times."

Time was when the woods in October resounded with the yaps of possum dogs hunting for the night prowlers, and "possum and taters" were a seasonal southern delicacy.

About 240 million people speak English as their primary language.

More than 65 million emigrants left Europe between 1820 and 1930.

Foolproof Protection

Entirely aside from everything else that has gone into or come out of the Harry Dexter White case is the problem of wire-tap evidence.

The question is whether or not the United States has the right to protect itself against its enemies. Under existing laws and interpretations of law, an agent of the Communist conspiracy who carries on his subversive activities against him obtained by listening in on his by telephone conversations can be used in a federal case.

At the same time, however, evidence obtained by a recording machine might be used. Photographs taken without his knowledge might be used. A subversionist is untouchable only if he has the foresight to carry on all his activities by telephone.

This absurdity has come about because of understandable misgivings about possible invasions of privacy if telephone - tapping became widespread. There is a way, however, to quiet these misgivings.

It could be made clear beyond any doubt by congressional enactment that only one type of wire-tapping evidence shall have any status in a federal trial — evidence with direct bearing on the activities of persons charged with conspiracy to teach, advocate and practice the by telephone is untouchable. No evidence overthrow of the government of the United States.

FBI Director Hoover is among those who believe the United States has a right to protect itself against its enemies and the wit to do so without endangering any right of any citizen who is not part of a conspiracy to overthrow his own government.

More Americans will take his word for it than will take the word of the legal hair-splitters that there is no safe way for America to plug the telephonic loophole for subversives.

The Holidays

In the evolution of American customs, the celebration of "the holidays" has become the highest festive point of the calendar year.

The state of mind which is both a cause and a result of the holiday observance has extensive, social and economic results. A good experience during the period from Thanksgiving to Christmas, with the week between Christmas and New Year's day added as an anti-climax can redeem what otherwise would have been called an ordinary year.

There is nothing like this anywhere else on earth. Though the three actual holidays involved — Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year — all have counterparts in other societies, their American form is unique.

Christmas, especially, has become a sparkling reflection of the American spirit of sharing and generosity. It is a national attempt to bring to a peak of perfection for a few days each year the highest hopes and aspirations of our good society.

While in some respects the origin of Christmas in Christianity has been obscured, it is true that nowhere else has Christianity found a more robust and devoted following than it finds each year in the United States at Christmas-time.

There is every prospect for a fine holiday season this year. The light of war will be missing. Only the most cynical are willing to believe it will be missed as far as war's pressures on manufacturing and sales are concerned.

The holidays are meant for enjoyment mixed with devotion, which in itself is one of the highest forms of human enjoyment.

Happy holidays!

Harness Soap

Even at this distance, the tell-tale aroma of harness soap reveals what lies behind New York's worst political tussle since the days of Jimmy Walker.

Arthur W. Wicks, who resigned as majority leader of the state Senate and its temporary president last week, was under fire by Gov. Dewey for visiting Joey Fay, a labor extortioninst, in prison.

The Wicks-Fay incident came to light during investigation of labor rackets at Yonkers Raceway. The rackets had involved, besides vast sums of money, at least one murder.

Wicks had been serving as chairman of a joint state legislative committee studying racing laws and rules; i.e., studying ways and means of getting along amicably and profitably with the race tracks.

Also coming to light during the investigation was ownership of stock by J. Russell Sprague, an important official of the Dewey organization. Moreover, the probable successor to Wicks has announced he will have to qualify for that honor by getting rid of his race-track connections.

The smell of harness soap is everywhere.

Gov. Dewey, himself, has not been soaped, which seems to be the issue. The gamblers in New York state, where more than 60 per cent of all betting at harness tracks was done in 1952 and where betting on thoroughbred racing is a big business, have challenged Dewey's domination of New York politics.

What the easy-money crowd can't buy it always tries to destroy.

The horse gamblers can't buy Dewey.

Spy Probe Hits Acheson

By James Marlow

Testimony Involves Former Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (AP)—When former Secretary of State Dean Acheson went out of office last Jan. 20 with the rest of the Truman administration, he probably hoped for unbroken quiet in private life.

His years in the State Department had been anything but quiet. He had been in the news in a double role: as secretary of state conducting foreign affairs and as a target for Republican complaints about officials allowing employment of Reds in government.

No one pounded him so hard or consistently as Sen. McCarthy, the Wisconsin Republican, who liked to refer to him as the "Red Dean." When Acheson left office this Republican campaign against him subsided, more or less.

But Acheson has been yanked back into the news again as a result of a report issued last night by the Senate's subcommittee on internal security, which is headed by Sen. Jenner, Indiana Republican.

Whether this subcommittee will try to force Acheson to answer questions is something which, of course, is up to Jenner and his subcommittee colleagues to decide.

This group for months has been investigating Communist infiltration of government. If it needed any encouragement to continue, Atty. Gen. Brownell suplied it with his recent suggestion:

"You will . . . want to investigate, I believe, what care was used to protect the national security (in the Truman administration)."

Brownell provided this nudge at the end of his 22-page statement explaining to the subcommittee what he meant when he said former President Truman promoted Haryr Dexter White, although warned by the FBI he was a Soviet spy.

The subcommittee had been doing since last April just what Brownell suggested: probing for evidence that there were Communists in various government departments under Truman.

Although many of its hearings between then and now were public, and much of the information gathered by the subcommittee has been released in printed form, the senators have been going back over some of the same ground.

Last night the subcommittee released a 106-page record of a public hearing it held last June 25 when it took testimony from J. Anthony Panuch, now a New York attorney but in 1945-47 a deputy assistant secretary of state.

The then secretary of state, James F. Byrnes, asked him to take the job to handle the postwar reorganization of the State Department. Alger Hiss at the time was director of the department's office of Special Political Affairs.

Panuch told the senators he had "always been suspicious of Alger Hiss." Years later Hiss was convicted of perjury afetr denying under oath he had given government information to a Communist courier.

It was after Hiss' conviction that Acheson made a statement—that he would not turn his back on Alger Hiss—which brought him more criticism than probably anything else he ever said or did.

Panuch told the subcommittee that in 1946 he killed "deader than a door nail" a reorganization plan within the department that would have given Hiss greater influence on U.S. activities in the United Nations.

The long record of Panuch's testimony goes into detail on his efforts to get persons he said were known or suspected Communists out of the department. If the record has a climax it comes within the last few pages.

These show that Panuch was reminded of testimony by Adolph Berle Jr., a former assistant secretary of state, who once told the House Un-American Activities Committee:

That in 1944 Hiss was Acheson's "principal assistant" when there was a difference of opinion in the department on whether Russia would be peaceful or aggressive after the war.

Hiss, Berle said, took "what he would call today the pro-Rusian point of view." When this was read to him, Panuch told the senators, 'That is a fair statement of the situation . . . When I was in the department."

When Secretary Byrnes, the man who hired Panuch, resigned, to be succeeded by Gen. George C. Marshall, Acheson called him in, Panuch said, and asked for his resignation.

Panuch said he had been told Acheson would "not tolerate my being around the department."

Oil for Alma Mater

By TRUMAN TWILL

Many of us who got our advanced educations in voluntary colleges sighed a few days ago when Hugh Roy Cullen, one of the fabulous Texans who made a pile in petroleum, celebrated a football victory for the University of Houston with a $2,250,000 bonus.

The University of Houston, which Oilman Cullen put on its feet less than 10 years ago with a bequest of close to $30,000,000, now has an enrollment of some 13,000 and the best football team money can buy. It is on the map.

This is what all little colleges and their financial bush-beaters dream about — a Hugh Roy Cullen with unlimited means and an uncontrollable impulse of generosity. Cullen, who is 71, has both in an unprecedented degree. On one occasion he set up a $160,000,000 foundation to systematize his charitable impulses.

He's a big operator.

The University of Houston is a monument to the scope of his fortune. With no education of his own worth mentioning, he has done what many another wealthy man has done under similar circumstances — bought with cold cash some of the satisfaction he never had a chance to share as a student.

All voluntary colleges these days are trying every dodge and grip in the money-raising game to meet their fixed costs and add a little new equipment now and then. Inflation has cheapened their endowments. Taxes have whittled down the bequests which have been their bread and butter. Tax-supported schools have put them under the guns in competition for students because these involuntary institutions can tap public funds for new buildings and rising costs of operations.

It isn't more Hugh Roy Cullens the voluntary schools need so much as it is a steady flow of operating and capital funds from diverse sources which will offset one another so far as personal influence is concerned.

No institution of advanced education can afford to get too far into the debt of an individual who might turn out to have some overripe ideas about controversial subjects. And no institution of education controlled by government can be any more advanced than the thinking of people who misuse goverment for their own purposes.

That's why academic freedom is so precious.

The president of my college was in town the other day and stopped to chat with me while waiting for an appointment to solicit funds for Alma Mater.

He spends a large part of his time running down leads that might produce the wherewithal for coal, salaries, roof repairs and potatoes. With him as with most college prexies this is a labor of love.

It's a tough job. If the prexies fail to perform it, the voluntary schools will have nothing to hold them up but their ivy.

This is to let our tireless prexy know that if we ever strike oil like Mr. Cullen we'll put a Y on the pipeline for Alma Mater. There will be only one string to the deal.

Under no circumstances shall dear old Twill Tech expect its benefactor to serve on the board of trustees or address the student body. Just name the place after us and be gentle with all recollections — but no personal appearances.

We'll start drilling for oil as soon as there's enough rain to soften the ground.

More Philippine Rice

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines 1952-53 rice production exceeds by several million bushels the island's pre-war record harvest, the Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources reports. The department said the harvest for 1952-53 was more than 147 million bushels.

The report gave credit to the U. S. Mutual Security Agency and its Philippines counterpart for the increase.

Wake Up

Bricker Amendment and Niagara Issue

By Raymond Moley

A practical and necessary plan to develop more electric power from the great resources at Niagara Falls seems to be stymied by conflicting political ambitions.

After years of labor and planning, a number of private electric companies developed blueprints in which it is shown how, at the expense of some 400 million dollars it would be possible to develop an immense addition to present generating capacity on the American side of the Niagara River without imparing the scenic and recreational value of that great natural resource.

There are three bills before Congress to authorize this plan of development.

THE FIRST is the Capehart-Miller bill, which would authorize the development by private companies. This bill has passed the House and is now before the Senate Public Works Committee.

The second is the Ives-Cole bill, which would permit the development by the State of New York through its Power Authority. This is a plan created and sponsored by Gov. Dewey.

The third is the Roosevelt-Lehman bill, which would have the federal government build and operate the project.

The projection of the State of New York and the federal government into this plan can hardly be attributed to any purpose other than politics.

THE POLITICAL motivation in both cases is very understandable. The alleged evils of private power companies has been thoroughly exploited in New York for a generation.

Year after year, Governors Smith, Roosevelt, and Lehman gathered votes on the plea that they were saving the people from the unholy clutches of greedy power monopoly.

Dewey, at this critical state in his career, cannot well abandon the people to a private power project which has been so thoroughly built up into a monster.

Hence, his Power Authority, which up to now has been largely a paper organization, must be given something to do.

Sen. Herbert Lehman and Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., represent the Alpha and Omega in the Democratic party of New York. The former is a fading luminary; the latter, a bright new hope. Together, they have one purpose—to elect Junior governor next year.

IN THE CASES of the state and the federal bills, the cost will be loaded on the taxpayers. There is little to choose between them, unless you prefer socialism by the state to socialism by the Federal Government.

Both of these public ownership plans are based upon the research and experience of private companies. And so far as the cost of power to the consumer is concerned, a fair price should be guaranteed by state and federal regulations.

There is, however, a new and sinister angle to this federal effort to get the well-known nose under the tent.

It has been abundantly adjudicated that the federal government cannot go into the power business except in connection with some other recognized and legitimate power. That is the contitutional situation.

FLOOD CONTROL and navigation are the more common means of justifying Federal hydro projects. But the Lehman-Roosevelt project certainly cannot be associated with either of those, for this is a straight power project.

Perhaps the old and much abused "general welfare" clause will be invoked. But the only welfare that is visible is that of Junior's political career.

I venture to suggest that the existence of a treaty with Canada will be invoked if by any chance the Federal bill should be passed and brought before the courts.

For, as we have seen in the case of Missouri vs. Holland, a treaty can authorize the federal government to do almost anything.

Treaty power can practically wipe out the constitutional limitations on federal power.

That is why the enactment of the Bricker Amendment is so necessary.

Help From the Audience

By MARK DANA

Edwin H. Armstrong, a well-known electrical engineer who is much concerned about such matters, a group of lawyers is setting forth on a legal safari to find some way to coach courts and governmental agencies in technical affairs which, says the group, may be "beyond the comprehension of well-educated jurists and administrators."

The dean of the Columbia University School of Law heads the group, and the legalistic and engineering experts henceforth will be much concerned if some court, or some governmental body, tries to reach a decision on a "complex" matter minus the benefit of advice from somebody knowing all the details.

It seems a noble ambition, indeed, and reminds us to pause and wonder anew how a judge, presumably a layman if not figuratively a child in matters pertaining to electronics, chemical formulae, nuclear fission and esoteric minutiae of similar concerns which are subject of lawsuits, applications, controversies etc., has managed thus far to distinguish fact from fiction, including science fiction.

For that matter, sympathy wells up for judges anyhow. Their whole lot is itself complex. They are supposed to know when witnesses are lying, whether jurors have open minds or even any minds at all, whether defendants are just repeating phrases from their coaching counselors or are speaking out spontaneously.

Also, they are supposed to know practically everything about everything, as this volunteer counseling group asserts. If an electrician testifies about homes, a druggist mentions the term "elixir," a mechanical engineer casually refers to "torque," and a golfer paraphrases his utterances with references to "birdies," judicial omniscience comes in handy, indeed. Only the parent of a small boy is supposed to be wiser.

Marion County History Brevities

Daniel Longacre came to Marion County from Allegheny County, Pa., in 1834, settling near Wyandot at the old Indian Mill where he operated one of the first gristmills in this part of the state. Later he moved south of Agosta, now New Bloomington, where he milled for many years. After giving up his work as a miller he settled on a farm.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A Befouling Prospect

Christmastime, the season when the love of children and the joys of parenthood lift the spirit of the world, should not be defiled by intrusion of two loathsome kinappers and child slayers upon the scene, even though a just execution. Herod, infamous killer of the young, was not permitted to defile the spirit of the stable at Bethlehem.

Judas was undreamed of. A pair of repulsive modern-day characters can be allowed to wait a couple of weeks beyond Christmas, or given good riddance with sufficient haste to keep their names, photographs, deathhouse menus and interviews from desecrating the Yuletide at its holy height.

The gas chamber yawns for this grisly pair. But it is monstrous to let their exit befoul the Christmas season. They do not belong in the Christmas picture, even on the edges.

Furthermore, to change the execution date from December 18 would be no kindness. To execute them on the date set would constitute a special leniency. Death by a few breaths of lethal gas will be painless compared to what they will suffer in life during the height of the Christmas season.

Making full allowances for their depravity, the agonies they will know in living through Christmas will top the pain of their dying.

The faces of countless kids will stare at them from the darkness of their cells Christmas Eve, and in every last face there will be the eyes of the child they murdered and the memory of his last piercing cry.

All through the time of twinkling candles, gleaming ornaments, Christmas music and the laughter of young and old they will sense degradation as few have ever sensed it and know agonies no death chamber can bring.

-:-

Judge Albert Reeves will defer the execution, we think, if he has not done so as this appears in print. Speed but no desecration is called for. Hall and Heady will settle for the 18th.

The rest of the country shouldn't. Their exit belongs with the stripped tree on the city dump, the ashes from burning litter and the fading, far to soon, of the season that lifts the heart of mankind.

There must be no newspaper pictures of these slimy killers among the scenes that glorify Christmas. . . The gift-laden shopping throngs, the small fry gazing at street Kris Kringles, the kids rehearsing for the Christmas cantata and the mother holding a child on her lap as a father reads of "visions of sugar plums" and "the jolly old elf."

The Star of Bethlehem must not compete with the sickening lights of an execution chamber for public interest. Of all humans on earth not belonging, dead or alive, in the Christmastime news, the killers of Bobby Greenlease must top the list.

The President of Harvard was given an honorary degree by Yale just before the kickoff of the recent Yale-Harvard football game. Is there no gratitude!!! Dr. Pusey, the Harvard prexy, was practically made a broken-field runner in point of cause and effect.

Arthur Krock lists among things costly to the country "the assumption by J. Edgar Hoover of the role of a witness for one side in what had become a political controversy." We don't get it, Arthur. An all-out hunt for Russian agents in government can't be dismissed as a political controversy and it's pretty unfair to picture the square - shooting, resolute head of the FBI as taking sides because he gave America the picture clearly and firmly for the permanent record.

Galion Woman Hotel Manager Encounters Various Problems

Special to The Star

GALION — Guests at Hotel Talbott in Galion are greeted by Miss Virginia McClure, one of few women hotel managers.

In this position, and as manager of a hotel in a town the size of Galion, Miss McClure has diversified problems.

"Sometimes, I am head housekeeper, because we haven't had a head here for years," Miss McClure explains about her various duties. "I have to be personnel director, too, because there is no one else to do this work.

There are decisions she must make about maintenance, and when decorating is undertaken, she chooses colors. In the city, and a larger hotel, many problems which Miss McClure has to solve are never heard of by the manager because they are handled by different department heads.

"I really had to do some figuring this fall when 55 members of the U. S. Marine Corps Band wanted to stay here, and I had to make some arrangements for our regular guests, too," Miss McClure pointed out. "After all this hotel has just 52 rooms.

I'M REALLY ON CALL 24 hours a day, but my day usually begins at 8:30 a.m. With a few hours away in the afternoon, I am back around the dinner hour in the evening, and for several hours later.

"Above everything else, I try to impress upon all those who work here, an attitude of friendliness among ourselves as well as our guests, because I want this hotel to keep its name of a pleasant and comfortable little hotel. Perhaps this is one reason Miss McClure can say, "The same personnel has been here for some time."

When Duncan Hines recently listed both the hotel and its dining room in his recommended list of accomodations for travelers, that really did make Miss McClure happy because it came since she has been manager.

A Galion girl, Miss McClure knows the town and the community, and in this way she can easily direct her guests in and about the area. Managing the hotel came as a culmination of incidental events, and was not planned by Miss McClure. During the war she took a position as clerk at the hotel to make time go a little faster, and to fill in when male clerks were no longer available. Then, because of her experience in bookkeeping in local industry, Miss McClure assumed the auditor's duties at the hotel. Along with her auditing work, she acted as hostess in the dining-room for a time. When T. Owen Jack was manager of the hotel, Miss McClure was his assistant. She advanced to the managership when he went to Mt. Pleasant, Mich., in October, 1952, to manage another Grenoble hotel there. Hotel Talbott is one of the Grenoble chain.

HOTEL TALBOTT ON Galion's public square, while it was completely remodeled in 1942 in Colonial design, is one of the city's landmarks, and dates back to stagecoach days. Before it took the name of Talbott from the owner of the building, it was known as the Central Hotel.

There is a story about the old hotel that once Alexander Graham Bell, then an unknown idealist, rigged up a 200-yard telephone wire from the hotel where he had stopped to another building. This was to demonstrate that his invention, the telephone, was practical. The old hotel was first erected in 1851 for a store by David and Joel Riblet. Later it became Central Hotel. Now one of the Grenoble chain of hotels, it is owned by Carl Berger of Cincinnati and associates, and the building is the property of Mrs. D. C. Talbott of Galion.

The hotel is the mecca of social gatherings in Galion, and the regular meeting place for Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs. The large export business that Galion industry does, brings guests to the hotel from all over the world. Not too long ago, a resident of Johannesburg, South Africa, was a guest for two months, and recently there was one from Turkey, as well as those from Sweden and England who are here frequently. Internationally talented persons who come to Galion on the Community Concert series, also stay at the hotel.

MISS DORIS STONE, a bride-elect of December, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening when Miss Harriet Bascos and Miss Martha Knickle entertained at the Bascos home at 123 W. Columbia St. The honored guest's chosen wedding colors of blue and white were carried out in the decorations. The table was centered with gold bells tied with blue ribbon.

During the evening, "progressive bingo" was played with honors going to Mrs. James Stone, Miss Martha Knickle, Mrs. John Fridley, Mrs. Fred Sanders and Mrs. Fern Iams.

Guests included Mrs. Fridley, Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Mrs. Iams, Mrs. William Ryan, Mrs. Sanders. Miss Edith Augenstein, Misis Edith Loyer, Mrs. Larry Milakovich, Mrs. William Lackey, Mrs. Stone, Miss Emma Knickel, Miss Shirley Finley and Miss Stella Bascos.

Miss Stone will become the bride of William Boley Friday, Dec. 4, in Emanuel Lutheran Church. The custom of open church will be observed for the 7:30 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Eileen Alexander entertained members of the Jolly Jamglers Club Tuesday evening at her home at 655 Henry St. For devotions, Mrs. Beth Monk read from the 103rd Psalm, and Mrs. Ella Romano gave two Thanksgiving poems. Miss Princess Arnholt was presented a gift from the club in honor of her birthday anniversary. Cootie was played with honors going to Miss Ruth Foster and Miss Arnholt. A special prize was won by Mrs. Olive Van Voorhis. Names were drawn for a Christmas gift exchange to be held at the Christmas party Dec. 22 at the Beechwold Restaurant in Columbus.

Election of officers for the new year was held when the Youth Fellowship of the Waldo Methodist Church met Nov. 15 at the church. Marilyn Neville was elected president; Alice Shuster, vice president; Pamela Neville, secretary; Cindy Groll, treasurer; Kathleen Oborn, reporter; Joyce Shoaf and Sue Denzer, recreation leaders.

A discussion on "What Is a Christian" was in charge of Rev. Robert Fichter. Meetings of the group will be held every two weeks at 7 p.m. at the church.

A social hour followed the program at a meeting of the Emma Berger Bible Class of Calvary EUB Sunday school recently in the parish house. Mrs. Ellis Epley, presided and gave the prayer. A letter was read from Mrs. C. R. Beerbower, a former teacher of the class, who is now making her home in Michigan. Scripture verses were given in response to roll call. Mrs. Edna Ruth gave the prayer. A poem written by Mrs. Grace Holland, "My Thank You," was read, and a poem, "I'm Getting Old," was given by Mrs. Alice Ruhlman. A quartet composed of Mrs. Helen Hedge, Mrs. A. L. Wood, Mrs. H. O Rueger and Miss Vera Stull sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edna Zachman. A poem, "Corn Along the Way" by Mrs. Maggie Zachman and a talk on her trip to Alaska by Mrs. Walter Fetter completed the program. The following committee was in charge of the social hour: Mrs. Harvey Kline, chairman, Mrs. Edna Ruth, Mrs. Hazel Evans, Mrs. O. D. Myers and Mrs. Ethel Smith.

—:—

Mrs. J. W. Baker was a guest speaker at the guest party held by the Fortnightly Study Club recently at the Women's Club Home. She had as her topic the history of hymns. Refreshments were served during a social hour from a table decorated with baby chrysanthemums and candles. Presiding were Mrs. Robert McCormick and Mrs. Howard Crissinger. Guests were Mrs. Thomas Swartz, Mrs. Paul Rowse of Harpster, Mrs. Stanley Thompson, Miss Clara Alice Wilson, Mrs. J. Weyer, Mrs. Horace Maddox, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Aubrey Thompson, Mrs. Glen Riddle, Mrs. R. D. Skillman, Miss Doris Brading, Miss Iris Tennant, Miss Viola Reichardt, Mrs. E. L. Cleveland, Mrs. Forest Flockencier, Mrs. Ola Brelsford and Mrs. Della Weimer.

Officers were elected at a meeting of the Junior Choir of Calvary EUB Church Saturday in the parish house. They are: Sandra Gaver, president, Rose Marie Creasap, vice president, Judy Vestal, secretary, Joyce Gaver, treasurer. Guests included Bennie Creasap and Connie Gaver. Refreshments were served.

—:—

Mrs. C. Lawrence Kline was welcomed as a new member when the Three Arts Club met Tuesday afternoon at the Women's Club Home. Mrs. W. A. Wylie and Mrs. George W. Wilson were hostesses for a dessert luncheon. Decorations were in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme.

The program topic, "Women of the Bible," was presented by Mrs. Harry Evans, and Mrs. Wilson gave two piano numbers. Members gave Bible verses n resiponse to roll call. Mrs. Fred Issler, president, presided for the meeting and conducted devotions. The group discussed the proposed revised amendments to the constitution of the county Federation of Women's Clubs. An announcement was made that on April 29, 1943, the club will sponsor Fine Arts Day.

The next meeting, Dec. 8, will be a Christmas party in the evening at the Club Home.

Moving Furniture Causes Decoration Project for Room

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A man with a tape measure dropped by yesterday to make a "floor plan" for wall-to-wall carpeting in our living room. It wasn't until I'd casually signed a piece of paper pledging a store the long end of a short bank account and closed the door behind him that I began to wonder how on earth this project had blown up anyway.

I have traced it—to a rainy weekend a couple of months back. The house-bound family, unable to golf, garden or sun bathe, decided to "move the furniture." Usually we move the furniture merely by reshuffling the pieces in one room, and our major change is effected by shoving the couch to a new spot. Probably we decided something more drastic was needed because we'd been cooped up for two days. This time we decided to replace a break-front secretary with a small kidney-shaped desk which had been reposing in an upstairs room.

Reveals Flaws

The new arrangement looked pretty nice by candle light and electricity. Daylight, however, revealed some flaws. The upholstery of two chairs, which had gotten by nicely away from direct light, looked pretty ragged. The slip-covers on the couch, in a new central position, looked slightly beat-up, too. Three new slip covers were ordered, including one in a gay pattern which charmed us so much we also ordered new window draperies to match.

Somehow, the fine, expensive slip-covers and draperies made everything else look a little shabby. The little kidney-shaped desk, which no one had ever paid much attention to before, seemed particularly in need of a complete expensive refinishing job. Then the lamps and lamp shades needed some attention.

Walls Need Treatment

Finally, we came to the wall paper and trim—the painter is arriving the end of the month to put that into some sort of shape. I must say that the paper I've picked is handsome, perhaps a little more expensive than I'd wish, but it will do "something important" for the room.

And this leaves the old carpet. A shade of green which was fine before, but doesn't go with a single thing for the room. So something gray or beige is what we've got to have. And if you look closely here and there, there are some pretty thin spots.

What else? Wall-to-wall carpeting, a sensible solution because you don't have to fuss with polishing the floors, and it is really so handsome.

Now that I've thought this thing through, I have made a firm resolution. The next rainy weekend, I'm going to the movies—double features, too.

Auto Damaged in Crash On 42 Near Mt. Gilead

One Thanksgiving Day accident in Morrow County was reported today by state patrolmen from the Marion Post. It happened at 8:40 Thursday morning, about six miles north of Mt. Gilead on U. S. Route 42.

A car driven by Great Smith, 57, of near Mt. Gilead was damaged extensively when struck in the rear by a car driven by Clarence Durnell, 69, of Troy.

Patrol reports show Smith was stopped to make a left turn when his car was struck. Both vehicles were northbound.

Durnell was issued a citation to appear in the court of Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead Saturday. He was charged with unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

Australian Facilities Poor

Housing To Be Problem At Next Olympic Games

One of a series of articles by Nina Pulliam on the customs of people of Australia, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands.

Mrs. Pulliam, wife of Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star and other newspapers, is gathering material for a book on the world "Down Under."

By NINA PULLIAM

ADELAIDE, Australia, (NANA) — Along the river Yarra (the "Upside-down river, too thick to swim and too thin to plow") Australia's second city—Melbourne—has laid down her wide tree-shaded streets and curving boulevards, has reared her skyline of towering business and financial buildings and spire-crowned cathedrals, and has made her pleasant, inviting homes.

In every unused corner trees and flowering shrubs have been planted and now flourish, to "help take the bareness off things." The gardens and parks are marvels of beauty and a benefaction to the great and growing city. It is the home of Flemington racecourse where the famed Melbourne Cup is run. It is here, at the Melbourne Cricket Grounds, that the Olympic Games of 1956 will be held.

In all, Melbourne is a city in which man's imagination and hard work have created things of beauty and grace where none was before. It is too self-aware, too self-sufficient a city to be quickly "known." It takes some delving but that can be pleasantly done, even if one goes there, (as I did), at the time of the mutton bird gales, so that he is alternately drenched in the sudden downpours, dried by an equally unpredictable sun, or turned into a shivering fugitive by the knife-edged winds of sundown.

IT IS A RICHLY rewarding place to explore, especially if one finds some of the little, obscure places and things which give deep insight into the real spirit of Melbourne. Se the enchanting 'fairies' tree, carved by the gifted, knowing hands of Ola Cohn who reveals there a deep understanding of the hearts of little children. The fairies and the pixies, the kangaroos and koalas and kookaburras are all there, beautifully cut into the massive trunk of the old tree, to delight the grownup as well as the child. Go into the little cottage of Captain Cook, brought here from England, stone by stone—sit down on one of the old settles flanking the kitchen hearth and contrast Australia's inauspicious founding with her present and her imaginable future.

Visit the places associated with the most famous of Australian singers, Dame Nellie Melba (her real name was Mitchell). See the great iron gates, decorated with large gilded M's which Caruso ordered made in Milan and presented to her. See the lime pit at Lilydale, whence came the wealth to train the great voice—hunt up the old man who told me much about Melba, first when she was young and unknown and later when she was older and famous, "so spoiled and selfish she became that even Caruso had to 'take second fiddle to her."

AND AS THE MELLOW, far-off bells ring out the waning day, go back with a sense of hours abundantly spent to your lodgings. Your lodgings! Ah there's the rub! For Melbourne, like other cities of Australia, is generations behind comparable cities in other parts of the world in the commonplace matter of expectably good accomodations for her visitors. She hasn't enough for her own out-of-town countrymen, even if she never saw a foreigner.

Reflecting on that situation with respect to the forthcoming Olympic Games, I went out in search of an understanding of the attitude and approach of Melbourne toward the plans to care for the several thousands of visitors who are going to pay her a call in 1956.

"Well, I can tell you this much now—if Melbourne gets properly ready for the Olympics it'll be in spite of and not because," said one.

"How do you mean?" I egged on.

"Well, the whole thing's got all tied up in politics. Sounds like we'd gone clean off our rocker, doesn't it, talking about building 600 houses for the Olympic crowd down at that housing commission place at Heidelberg. Why, ma'am, Heidelberg's 10 miles from here (we were then at the Melbourne Cricket Grounds) and it's pushing on to two miles from Heidelberg to the nearest railway. What'd we spend all the money to send a man to Helsinki to see how the last games were handled, if we didn't intend to pay any attention to what he says ?And he says Heidelberg's just a farce."

WHEN I'D TALKED to many and many a Melbourner it seemed the answer was just about what the very first person I'd asked had said. They'll proudly tell you at every opportunity "our cricket grounds are the biggest in the world. They'll seat 125,000—when we get them enlarged." But as to the shelter and multitudinous miscellaneous necessities for the five or six thousand Olympic players and officials—with perhaps a few out-of-town visitors who might drop in for the games—what of them?

Honesty Costly, Cabbie In Pennsylvania Finds

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Cab driver Stanley Wostonwzak sped to the nearest police station yesterday when he found a wallet in his cab.

While he was in the station the brakes on the cab gave way and it coasted down the street and crashed through a furniture store window.

Police praised Wostonwzak for his honesty. The wallet contained 83 cents.

Former Social Security Head Called in Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur J. Altmeyer, former social security administrator, was summoned today before a House hearing lambasted by a Democrat as an attempt to "smash the present social security system."

The charge — quickly denied came yesterday from Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa), who said witnesses have been asked loaded questions during the two weeks of hearings to date.

"The study or investigation, in my opinion, has been anything but objective." Eberharter said in a statement. "The printed hearing will be a monumental compendium of all possible objections and criticisms which can be voiced against the present social security act."

Rep. Goodwin (R-Mass), a member of the Ways and Means subcommittee, said the hearings are aimed at gaining "facts as to the workability of the present system."

"There is no intention of breaking up social security, but of trying to improve it," Goodwin said.

Subcommittee Chairman Curtis (R-Neb) said the record speaks for itself. Previously he has said the group is objectively seeking facts to determine "where things stand now, to the end that improvements can be brought about."

Ike Petitioned After Irrigation Ditch Claims 33

57-Mile Long Canal In California Property Of U.S. Government

CLYDE, Calif. (AP)—The bereaved family of little Joe Anderson left yesterday for a new home in Oregon—miles from the irrigation canal that made Joe its 33rd victim last week.

"Geting away from here will make the forgetting easier," said Mrs. Warren Anderson. "I'm not bitter at anyone. But Joe is dead. Now they'll build a fence, I'm sure of that."

Joe's father last week wrote a poignant letter to President Eisenhower asking him to build a fence along the canal.

"I can't fence it, nor can any of my neighbors," he wrote, "because it belongs to our government . . . The canal is your responsibility, Mr. President, and I think if you had known about it one of your first acts as president would have been to have fenced it. Because the canal, Mr. President, has taken 33 lives—mostly babies like your grandson, David, and my boy, Joe. . ."

A movement is now under way to get the canal fenced all along its 57 miles. The government may go ahead with the work, providing the irrigation district repays the cost.

But the Andersons won't be here then. They're moving to Portland, Ore., "because we don't know anyone there."

They still want the fence built, however. As Mr. Anderson said in his letter to the President, "build it for Joe—not my Joe now because he was the last boy the canal took from his mama and daddy. Not for my Joe, but for some other little Joe—or David—who's all boy and will be No. 34."

Ava Gardner Reported Ready To Seek Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ava Gardner is en route to New York City and Rome, where she will make a movie. A studio spokesman said last night she will go ahead with plans to divorce Frank Sinatra.

The spokesman quoted the actress as saying the crooner's latest visit with her at the Hollywood home of her sister, Bea Gardner, was merely to say goodby.

Bible Words to Live by

MATTHEW 9:37—"Then He said to His disciples, 'The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; pray therefore the Lord of harvest to send out laborers into His harvest.'" (RSV)

It is a true picture of the need of China. We have about four million Christians among a great population of over 400 million. In order to obey His call, I have consecrated my life as one of His laborers in China for 20 years.

When I came to this country in 1947 to work among the Chinese, I found the same crying need. Recently under the sponsorship of the National Council of Churches in the U.S.A. I have made a survey of the Chinese Christian Churches in this country including Hawaii. To my great surprise, only eight per cent of the 150,000 Chinese are Christian. It seems strange to send missionaries to China 10,000 miles away and to neglect the 92 per cent Chinese right at our own door steps. Let us do something for the unchurched Chinese in this country. "Pray therefore to the Lord of harvest to send out laborers into His harvest."

Farm Sales Gain But Receipts Drop, U.S. Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says farm sales were slightly bigger during the first 10 months of 1953 than in the same period last year, but the farmer received 5 per cent less cash.

The department report yesterday said the decline, a total of $24,800,000,000, was caused by lower prices.

However, it said the consumer paid more for goods in general, with prices of industrial goods rising slightly to balance the lower prices of farm goods. The report also noted a small boost in charges for transportation, rent, medical care and other services.

It said farm receipts from meat animals declined 7 per cent and for crops 2 per cent.

Baker To End Long Service With Railroad

Ex-Superintendent Here Will Return To Make Home in City

Arthur W. Baker of Hornell, N. Y., formerly of Marion, will retire Monday from the superintendency of the Susquehanna, Delaware and Tioga Divisions of the Erie Railroad Co. and with Mrs. Baker will return to Marion to make their home at 217 Kensington Pl.

Railroaders and non-railroaders numbering approximately 350 attended a dinner in his honor Monday night at the Moose Club in Hornell.

Among the many gifts the retiring superintendent received was a certificate 'in greateful appreciation for faithful and conscientious service" bearing the signatures of Paul W. Johnston, company president and Milton G. McInnes, vice president, both of Cleveland. The certificate cited the 46 years of service Baker has rendered the company. The presentation was made by A. E. Kriesien, assistant vice president and general manager of Jersey City.

Gifts included an easy chair, a chest of tools and a floor lamp. Mrs. Baker received a pocketbook. Last week Baker received a mounted bell as a gift from the Hornell Mechanical Department of the Erie. The bell was one removed from the Cass Street tower in Hornell.

Speakers included Mayor Francis P. Hogan of Hornell who praised Baker for his leadership, inspiration and service to industry and to the civic life of the community. A member of the Rotary Club, he served as president in 1952-53.

Baker came to Marion in 1935 as superintendent of the Kent Division of the Erie Railroad and in 1914 was transferred in the same capacity to Youngstown. He went to Hornell in 1946. While a resident of Marion he took an active part in civic and community activities and was a member of the Marion Rotary Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker have three daughters, Mrs. Emmett Morgan of Canton, Mrs. Richard Armbruster, of Travis Air Force Base, Calif. and Mrs. Harold McNew of Marion.

The Hornell newspaper. The Evening Tribune, paid tribute to the retiring superintendent in an editorial Tuesday.

Five Motorists Stopped By Marion City Police

Five drivers were stopped on various traffic charges yesterday and early today by city police. Three were arrested and two were issued citations to appear in Municipal Court.

Those arrested were: William H. Hull, 32, of Waldo, charged with drunken driving, posted $150 bond for appearance in Municipal Court tomorrow; Charles M. Peffley, 31, of Vandalia, O., charged with passing in a no passing zone, posted $35 bond for appearance Dec. 3; and Charles R. Sisson, 21, of near Radnor charged with having insufficient brakes on his car, fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court today.

Citations were issued to Delores Seckel of 230 Barnhart St., speeding, fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court today; and William M. Murphy, 27, of Morral, no muffler on his car, fined $15 and costs in court today.

C-119 Crashes in Paris

PARIS (AP) — A U.S. Air Force C119 Flying Boxcar crashed near Orly Field today, killing all aboard. Five bodies were recovered.

At Wiesbaden, Germany, U.S. Air Force headquarters in Europe said the plane was believed to be one arriving from the United States as a normal replacement. Its origin in the United States was not given.

Russia

say, fed this speculation.

Laniel fights for his government's life today during debate in the French Parliament on support of the proposed European Defense Community Treaty. Russia is bitterly hostile to this pact, under which half a million Germans would be put in uniforms as part of a Western European army.

Issue in Doubt

Laniel, who supports EDC, will be France's representative at the Bermuda meeting with President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Churchill—if Laniel is still in office. If he loses the vote of confidence expected late today, his government must resign. In such a case, France presumably would be represented at Bermuda by a spokesman for a caretaker government with little power to make binding decisions.

Eisenhower withheld comment on the Russian anncuncement. A spokesman at his vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., said "the president knows no more about it than has appeared in the press dispatches."

The Soviet note was received at the State Department last night, after being handed to the American, British and French embassies in Moscow. Earlier, Moscow radio had announced simply that Foreign Minister Molotov had dispatched the note "expressing the Soviet government's consent to take part in a conference of the representatives of the four powers." The broadcast said the text would be published Saturday.

Could Be Strategy Move

The announcement could have been designed so that the first impact of the news would be made without any word of conditions being given. If that was deliberate it would seem to be calculated for maximum effect on the French political situation. The information made public did not include Moscow's proposals, if any, for subjects to be discussed, nor any indication whether a meeting of chiefs of state, or only lesser officials was contemplated.

Officials who began studying the eight - page document here last night said that further consideration would be necessary before there could be formal reaction. But it was learned that there were at least implied conditions which made the next American step uncertain. It was possible, no reply would be made until after the Bermuda conference.

Pressing for Pact

On Nov. 16 the Western Powers told Russia in simultaneous notes that its conditions for a Big Four meeting were totally unacceptable. But they also stated their readiness to consider any future proposals which the Soviets might make. The Western Powers had been pressing the Russians for an unconditional agreement to hold a foreign ministers' meeting on the German and Austrian problems.

Pending release of the text of yesterday's note, it was not clear whether Russia was agreeing to talk about German unification.

in "critical" condition at Hardin Memorial Hospital today.

Police said the boy was playing tag with several other children and suddenly darted into the street, from between parked cars hitting the side of a car driven by George L. Puntee, 21, of near Degraff. The youngster fell to the ground and the rear wheel of the car ran over his head. The driver was not held.

Parade

formed Church, "The Christian Hope."

Chairman of the parade committee of the Chamber of Commerce is Jack Lautenslager. His job is to arrange all details for the event and see that everything is in order for Saturday.

THE PARADE will begin at Park Blvd. and W. Center St. From there it will go east on Center St. to Main St., then south to Church St., east to S. State St. north to E. Center St., west to N. Main St., and north on N. Main St. across the Big Four Railroad tracks where it will disband.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of getting the floats in line Saturday afternoon.

Lautenslager said he expected the entire parade to last about 45 minutes to an hour. Police will escort the entire parade from beginning to end of march.

—:—

STREETS WHICH will be used will be blocked off to traffic for the time of the parade. Policemen will direct cars along detours through the city.

Music appropriate to the Christmas season will be piped from the courthouse and the two bands will also play Christmas music as they march.

Because of the favorable response received by the Chamber after the last two parades, which were also of a religious nature, the group decided to hold a similar program this year, Lautenslager said.

Santa Claus will be at the end of march in the parade, but will not go the entire route. When his float reaches the courthouse after going on Main, Church, and E. Center St., it will stop, and a delegation of city officials will give him an official welcome to Marion.

Benson

publicans in Congress, as well as some farm leaders, have been highly critical of Benson's handling of farm problems, principally the decline in farm income.

"The public is entitled to a fair presentation of the facts of what Benson is trying to do," Beall said, "rather than half-true distortions prepared by skilled speech writers supposed to be interpreting and helping to implement farm programs designed for the benefit of all."

Struck By Similarity

The senator said he became suspicious when he read the texts of speeches made "on the same day last summer in the Senate and House—the similarity of their language struck me."

He declined to name any senator and representative who made such speeches, but he said he looked into the matter and "our information was that the material came from ghost writers at the Agriculture Department."

Since then ,he said, he has been told of instances where speeches were written in whole or in part by members of Benson's staff, for delivery by his critics. Others got critical material obtained from these staff members, he said.

He said instances included "planted" reports that the recent department reorganization would hurt farm aid programs and cause confusion among farmers, and that Benson's policies would impoverish many farmers and perhaps cause a depression.

FAMILY ACCIDENT

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — It's a small world — too small for the Charles Morris family. Mrs. Morris, 21, graduated from the Memorial Nursing School, was driving home with her mother, after the ceremonies and rammed full speed into the rear of a parked vehicle. Mrs. Morris got out to survey two badly damaged automobiles and saw the driver of the other. It was her husband, in their car, driving home from the same ceremonies with Mrs. Morris' father.

3 Children Die in Fire

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—Three small children died today in a fire that wrecked their two-story frame home on Ohio 9, 10 miles west of here.

The victims were children of Joseph Sayle, who was burned on the face and arms, but was not hospitalized. Dead were Martha, 8, Judy, 10, and Melvin, 14.

Laniel

bate will come probably tonight when the Assembly finally gets down to voting on a weakly-worded resolution approving European unification—including a rearmed West Germany—as part of the policy Laniel wants to take with him to the Bermuda meeting Dec. 4 with President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill.

Adding to the threats to the life of his already shaky regime was a last-minute rift between Laniel and his foreign minister, Georges Bidault, who was said to have felt the premier was not determined enough in pushing for all-out endorsement of plans to create the proposed six-nation European Defense Community.

Needs Votes

The government needs the votes of Bidault's Popular Republican Movement party, which favors EDC, and the DeGaullists, who bitterly oppose the plan.

Some observers thought the Soviet agreement to a foreign ministers meeting in Berlin would pull the props out from under the Laniel government. Others thought it would strengthen the regime

Laniel himself told the Assembly the Russian agreement could improve the international climate.

Defeat on the confidence resolution would force the Cabinet to resign. France then might have to be represented at Bermuda by the representative of a caretaker government with little or no power to make decisions. The government at any rate has only a month more of life, since it must resign after the presidential election Dec. 17.

Sabotage Believed Aim

Before the details of the Soviet note were made public, many observers here and abroad at once concluded the Russian offer was designed to sabotage the Bermuda meeting by bringing down the Cabinet.

One school of thought was that deputies opposing the European army would seize on the Soviet offer to talk as an excuse for withholding endorsement of anything connected with the army project.

But another group thought the Assembly would not precipitate another crisis that might impede France in any negotiations with the Kremlin.

Russia

(Turn to RUSSIA, Page 12)

in Russian and came up with a translation saying the other powers "possibly" do not possess all the weapons the Russians have.

There was no doubt, however, about Vishinsky's claim that Russia now has overtaken the West in atomic and hydrogen weapons.

"It is not correct to say that we are weaker in this field of endeavor," he declared.

U.S. military authorities have repeatedly denied that the Russians are anywhere close to the United States in either atomic or hydrogen bomb production.

The Political Committee's rejection of the Soviet "peace" resolution cleared the deck for a final round of debate on Burma's demands for the withdrawal to Formosa of Chinese Nationalist irregulars from Burmese territory. A limited withdrawal, which is expected to remove about 2,000 of the 12,000 troops involved, began early this month and the debate was recessed to see how the operation progressed.

So far, about 900 of the Chinese have been removed from Burma. World-touring U.S. Vice President Richard Nixon told newsmen in Rangoon yesterday that a speedup in the operation was "urgent" and that the United States must take the lead in prodding Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Gouzenko says he might have some useful advice for the Jenner subcommittee.

One of the men named by Gouzenko, Fred Rose, has gone behind the Iron Curtain, leaving his wife and daughter in Canada. Rose, a naturalized Canadian born in Poland, served a five-year jail term for his part in the spying.

His wife said yesterday he has gone to Czechoslovakia on business and for his health.

The Jenner subcommittee turned to Gouzenko after Atty. Gen. Brownell's sensational charges Nov. 6 that the Truman administration was, 'incredibly" lax toward rooting Reds out of key government positions.

Promoted Despite Repors

Brownell cited the case of Harry Dexter White, whom he said was promoted by Truman from assistant Treasury secretary to U. S. representative on the International Monetary Fund despite FBI reports linking him to espionage. Truman replied he did this to keep White and others similarly suspected under surveillance. But FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover told the Jenner group he disapproved of this arrangement, which he said hampered FBI checks on Red suspects.

Jenner's statement yesterday said White, Hiss and seven other former government workers are now the subcommittee's primary concern. White died in 1948 and Hiss is serving a five-year perjury sentence for denying under oath that he gave state secrets to a Communist agent.

Jenner announced the subcommittee has printed for public distribution the testimony taken at a public hearing in Washington last June 25 from J. Anthony Panuch.

Panuch, a New York lawyer who worked under Hiss at the State Department, testified he was instrumental in blocking a plan which would have given Hiss greater influence at the United Nations.

He said he wrote a memorandum March 7, 1946, that killed the proposed reorganization "deader than a door nail."

Sought Loan for Russia

In another development yesterday, Sen. Malone (R-Nev) acused White of having "shined up" estimates of America's strategic mineral reserves in trying to promote a big postwar loan to Russia.

Malone, a supporter of the mining industry in the Western states, is conducting an inquiry into the strategic materials situation.

He said that, while the multi-billion loan to Russia never went through, White "deliberately underestimated" United States mineral and petroleum reserves to make the transaction look like a wise one.

Special Music To Mark Calvary Revival Service

Special music at the revival service of Calvary EUB Church toight by J. R. MacMurray, music evangelist from Pennsylvania, will be a trumpet solo, "The Lord is My Light and My Salvation." A tenor solo presentation of the number will be given also by Mr. MacMurray. Rev. Clyde R. Wendell, pastor, will preach.

At the service Wednesday night, Rev. E. L. Zachman of Caledonia offered prayer. Mr. and Mrs. MacMurray sang, and the former played vibraharp and cornet solos, and arrangements of "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" using several instruments in addition to singing the spiritual. Rev. Wendell's sermon was on the "gift of the Holy Spirit." Thursday night's music included vocal and cornet solos by Mr. MacMurray, and a duet with Mrs. MacMurray. Special musical program Saturday night will be "The Parable of the Ninety and Nine" with the choir and Rhythm Chorus taking part. On Saturday morning, Mr. MacMurray will be at the Shellhorn Music Store to play a group of his musical instruments for the public.

CUB SCOUT'S GIVEN AWARDS

Cubmaster Joseph Lyons presented one-year pins to 20 members of Cub Scout Pack 3 at a recent meeting in Epworth Methodist Church. Advancement awards were also presented the scouts for their work. After the meeting, an auction of goods baked by the scouts themselves was held. Proceeds from the sale were placed in the pack treasury.

PRISON POPULATION DROPS

Population in the Marion County jail for Thanksgiving Day took a sharp drop from the 38 prisoners carried on the jail rolls for Monday. Sheriff Glenn Obenour reported today. Only 20 prisoners remained in jail Thursday to participate in the "turkey and trimmings" meal served.

HELPING HAND?

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) —James H. Jones, 26, has vowed to abandon his auto and call a garage if his car ever stalls again. Jones stalled in traffic here and received a push from a stranger. The pusher increased speed and Jones became alarmed and slammed on the brakes. His car sideswiped a parked car, brushed a pedestrian, sideswiped another, went over a curb and hit a light pole. While waiting for an ambulance to help the pedestrian, Jones' wife fainted from the nightmare ride. The speedy pusher? He disappeared.

Four Accidents Investigated by Police, Patrol

Two minor traffic accidents were investigated Thanksgiving day by Marion police. Two other minor accidents were reported this morning but no details were available. They were believed caused by the slippery pavements. State patrolmen also reported two Thanksgiving Day accidents.

A drunken driving charge was filed against Paul R. Messner, 41, of 251 Silver St. by city police following an accident in front of the Silver Inn on Silver St. at 6:09 p.m. yesterday. Police reported Messner backed his car into the front of another car parked in front of the Silver Inn and owned by Wayne H. Ault of near Edison. There was some damage to the front of Ault's car and to the rear of Messner's car.

In Municipal Court this morning, Messner pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail, fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

The other accident investigated by police yesterday occurred about 2:30 p.m. when an unidentified hit-skip car struck a car parked in front of 762 Gill Ave. and owned by C. E. Winters of that address There was some damage to the right door of Winter's car, police said.

Driver Held After Crash

Two accidents in Marion County were reported today by state patrolmen from the Marion post. No one was injured, but one person was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated.

Clyde Lowther, 36, of near Ashley was sentenced today to five days in Marion County jail, fined $100 and costs, and had his drivers' license suspended for three years by Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Hazen. Lowther was charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

Lowther was arrested Thursday night after an accident at 5:15 p.m. at the intersection of Marion County Road 140 and State Route 98.

Patrol reports indicate his car struck one driven by Claude Cook, 58, of near Waldo. Cook was on the county road. Lowther was reported to have made a right turn from the state highway onto the county road and sideswiped the Cook car in the process.

Moderate damage resulted to the left front and side of Cook's car and minor damage was reported to the left front fender of Lowther's car.

The other accident happened, at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday. A car driven by Clayton Lutz, 69, of Bucyrus was extensively damaged when it hit a slippery spot on State Route 4, one mile north of U. S. Route 23, and skidded out of control.

Patrolmen investigating the accident, report the car went off the highway and struck a stone wall owned by O. E. Hamilton of near Marion. The car was damaged on the front end and right side.

Exhibit of Van Gogh Paintings Set in Toledo

TOLEDO — The $7,000,000 exhibition of pictures by Vincent Van Gogh, famous Dutch artist, will open March 7, at the Toledo Museum of Art, Museum officials announced today.

Sponsored by the Netherlands government in observance of the 100th anniversary of the artist's birth, the show will be here eight weeks.

The exhibition currently is at the City Art Museum of St. Louis, where it will close Dec. 13, and will be at the Philadelphia Museum of Art from Jan. 2 through Feb. 28.

Blake-More Godwin, director of the Toledo Museum, said the Van Gogh exhibition is the largest single collection of art to come to this city since the 1951 showing of the Vienna Art Treasures.

The 180 paintings and drawings in the show were taken from the Kroller-Muller State Museum in the Netherlands and from private collections of Vincent W. Van Gogh, the artist's nephew.

Fish Encounter Trouble Obtaining Any Privacy

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP) — The State Fish Commission here adds this one to its steady flow of fish stories:

A fisherman and his son were amazed when they heard a splashing sound in the hollow portion of a log that had been dragged from a creek for eventual use as firewood.

Reaching into the opening, the elder angler pulled out an 11-inch black bass. He dipped in again and extricated a 10-inch bass. Both fish were in a semi-dormant condition.

"Apparently the bass were all set for a sound winter's sleep before their hiding place was removed from the stream," the commission commented.

exactly like many thousands of other families in America tonight.

"We are very, very thankful—returned from Korea late last summer)—and what is more important than that is that our grandchildren have home their daddy, our Barbie (John's wife) has her husband home.

'We are very, very thankful—and I am certain I speak for thousands and thousands of other families in America when I say: May we never again have to have our loved ones go off to war."

After the President's remarks the family was joined for dinner by a few old friends.

Besides turkey, the menu included oyster dressing, cranberry sauce, fruit cup, a salad, green vegetables and pumpkin pie.

John Eisenhower arrived during the afternoon from Ft. Benning, Ga., where he had an earlier turkey dinner with his troops. He commands the 1st Battalion of the 30th Infantry Regiment.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

In the business world, committees are being organized and meetings are being held to consider the question of either lowering or abolishing the American tariff. The Randall Commission, appointed by the President, is now making investigations in Europe and will come up with recommendations.

SOKOLSKY

What is desired is the establishment of a free market in goods, but Bernard Baruch insists that this will not solve the problem. His idea is:

"I think the first thing that you should do would be to recommend a free market in currencies of the world, so that if a man gets pesetas, or he gets francs, or dollars, or pounds, or whatever currency the Chinese or Japanese have, he can immediately turn it into a currency which he desires for the purpose of his trade. I think that is the first thing that has got to be done."

-:-

THIS, IS APPEARS to me, is sound advice because if money is no good, that is, unacceptable, trade will die on the vine.

Furthermore, any question of world trade has to be answered in the climate of war or peace.

When no one can determine from the facts whether we are living in a period of war or peace—"cold war," it is euphemistically called—it is impossible to decide whether there should be high or low tariffs or any at all, since, in our era, trade can be a weapon of war.

Baruch makes the point that most people who are exicited over this question are in a terrific hurry to do too much too rapidly.

What is needed, in this extremely sensitive field of human endeavor is to go step by step; otherwise, great damage might be done. For instance, the British, who are most energetic in their demand that the American tariffs be reduced or abolished, have actually raised their tariffs and pursue a policy of imperial perference aimed at the reduction of American trade within the British Commonwealth.

Also by the manipulation of the value of currencies, tariffs can actually be raised while giving the appearance of reduction.

THEREFORE, the first task is not to reduce tariffs, which may mean nothing, but to establish a free market for currencies. The attempt at this moment to stabilize currencies or to re-establish gold could be premature.

A stabilization fund would only invite a demand that the United States put up all the money in one way or another.

It would be better to let the currencies reach their own levels in a free market before any attempt is made either to use a stabilization fund or to restore the gold standard. It is soundest to go one step at a time.

It is now moving toward nine years since World War II ended and not only are the economics of the world dislocated but the burden still falls heavily on the United States.

How long this country can carry that burden, no one can say, but this much is clear: the Eisenhower administration, which set out to balance the budget, restore the value of American currency and reduce taxes, has been able to do none of these because of faulty economics in other countries.

CERTAINLY during the eight post-war years, the European nations should have been able to do more for themselves, particularly in freeing their currencies from wartime controls and their trade from wartime impediments.

In connection with this general discussion, it is interesting to note that as early as July, 1939, Baruch suggested to President Roosevelt that the United States refuse to buy gold from any country with which this country could not develop cooperative relations. Had this advice then been followed, Japan could not possibly have financed the war that ensured.

SOVIET RUSSIA is now exporting quantities of gold. The actual Russian hoard of gold is not known because the metal is constantly being mined but not accurately reported.

There is considerable evidence that Russia has been selling in Europe in the free market. It is possible that the object of Russian gold sales is to increase the use of consumers' goods without impairing the current Five-Year Plan, which is devoted to war production.

In a word, Russian imperialism is developing economic weapons to strengthen herself and to weaken our position. The question is whether the Randall Commission is facing the problem realistically.

Chiang, Rhee Map Strategy Against Reds

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Syngman Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek, two Asian leaders bonded in hatred of communism, today began a series of talks apparently aimed at tightening their unofficial alliance against the Reds.

The South Korean president flew secretly to this Nationalist Chinese fortress only two days after conferences with top U.S. officials in Korea.

Chiang and Rhee clasped hands warmly at the door of Rhee's borrowed transport, which belongs to Gen. Hull, U.N. Far East commander.

Rhee said his trip was a friendly visit but added that "something may be brought up for discussion . . ."

The surprise visit started immediate speculation that the two nations—both ravaged by Red forces—may join in a new anti-Red bloc.

Observers here expected the talks would touch upon at least two key points:

1. The possibility of Nationalist Chinese troops being sent to South Korea if the war is resumed.

2. The problem of what to do with some 14,600 anti-Red Chinese prisoners of war in Korea who are due to be freed as civilians in late January unless they choose to return to communism.

News reports from Seoul were the first word here that Rhee was coming. Despite all the hush-hush the United States obviously knew of the projected talks.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Senator Joseph McCarthy, whose name is synonymous with strychnine inside labor, has just been warmly praised by a union chief with a passion for the New Deal, a fondness for Harry Truman and an intimate knowledge of what happens left of center.

What makes this rather startling "man-bites-dog" news is the fact that this applause comes from one of labor's intellectuals — the song-writing, militant Pat Gorman, head of the AFL's butchers union.

RIESEL

Silver-haired, pipe-smoking Gormanis hardly one of the conservative of labor. More often you find him left of center. As I remember it, the last time I was his guest we munched the world's best corned beef sandwiches in his modernistic Chicago lakefront headquarters under a picture of the Socialist's most revered hero, Eugene Victor Debs. And I'll swear that Gorman's volumes of Karl Marx's "Das Kapital" looked like they had not just been gathering dust.

—:—

I WAS THEREFORE surprised to learn in the Midwest the other day that Gorman, secretary-treasuruer of the AFL's Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of North America, has, as editor and publisher of the union's magazine, written the following editorial:

"Is This The Same Joe?

"Until now we have never had great respect for Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin. No liberal-minded person could agree that his attempts to brand all progressives in our nation as Communists were anything more than muckraking.

"In recent weeks, however, from a strictly patriotic viewpoint, we must agree that Senator McCarthy is doing a most commendable patriotic service.

"It is almost unbelievable that some all-important secret documents concerning the defense of this country could fall so easily into the hands of spies. It is incredible that when one high military official brought such information to the Intelligence Dept. of the U. S., his statements were passed off lightly.

"Senator McCarthy evidently is on the road towards exposing one of the most diabolical plots to undermine the safety of this nation that has ever been uncovered. Not only have our atomic secrets been passed on to Russia, but evidently our newest radar secrets have also fallen into the hands of foreign spies.

"If this latest expose on the part of Senator McCarthy is proven true, then the nation owes him a debt of gratitude."

I INTERRUPT these quotes from Gorman's editorial simply to point out that it took courage for the labor leader to write this last sentence. For on his prematurely silvery head will fall the wrath of most of his labor colleagues. At about the time Gorman let this go to press, the CIO was officially charging that McCarthy had "Nazi prototypes" and that the senator "forced the burning of books and . . . even sponsored attacks on the Protestants."

Which background makes Gorman's words all the more significant. They may mean that McCarthy has cracked the solid labor front against him and his investigations.

But to continue with Gorman's editorial:

"There are too many nit-wits holding high technical positions in our government and entrusted with secrets that should be known only to those patriots who would protect them even with their lives.

"IN THE PAST we condemned severely he publishing of pictures in newspapers throughout the U. S. of new atomic weapons. Even diagrams illustrating how these weapons work were shown. Of course, everyone concluded that there was some little secret gadget that was not shown. It is easier to pick up one little secret gadget than the whole blueprint of a defensive weapon an these blueprints, less the little gadget, were published.

"To us this seemed asinine and it still does. There can be no whole secret if half of it is passed on to a reading public.

"There should be a revamping of the whole personnel employed by our government in planning defense of our nation. We dread the day that atomic weapons must be used in useless warfare, but after all, we are Americans first and everything else second.

"If a situation develops that will make war probable, then we should know beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the secret defenses of the people of our nation are kept secret. There are all sorts of screwballs, who are friends of some politician, who are holding down technical government positions at a crucial time like this, when only the most dyed-in-the-wool patriots should hold such jobs.

"In this latest expose of Sen. McCarthy, much as we have opposed his procedures in the past, we would not be patriots if we did not urge him to proceed with full speed."

They'll sure soon be stormin' at Gorman.

Replaces Detroit

Cleveland Declared Hub Of Midwest Dope Traffic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland has replaced Detroit as the distribution center of narcotics in the Midwest area.

That statement by federal narcotics agents to Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill is putting more pressure on his current legislature-directed narcotics investigation in Ohio.

District Supervisor Irving Greenfeld of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics made the disclosure of Cleveland taking over as a narcotics center. O'Neill reported today on a special conference held Monday in his offices with federal agents.

Federal Aid Offered

In addition, Greenfeld offered O'Neill's investigation the assistance of George J. Gray, agent in charge of the Toledo office; Howard W. Chappel, agent in charge of the Cincinnati office; R. J. Ripbarger, agent in charge of the Cleveland office, and Al Cook, agent in charge of the Columbus office.

At the conference, O'Neill said he outlined the nature and general purposes of the investigation for the federal agents and members of his investigation team.

O'Neill, whose office was ordered by the last legislature to investigate the narcotics situation in Ohio, emphasized the investigation activity is not enforcement, but rather a "careful study to determine the extent of use, sale and relation to crime of narcotics in Ohio.

Detroit Heat On

Greenfeld, who heads the Michigan-Ohio district of the federal narcotics bureau, said the sources for narcotics in Cleveland were predominantly New York and Chicago. At least one major reason for the shift, he told O'Neill, is the strict minimum sentence which can be imposed for narcotic violations in Michigan and particularly in Detroit.

One of the results of O'Neill's investigations may be a heavier minimum sentence in the future for Ohio convictions.

O'Neill heard Greenfeld repeat a promise made by Harry J. Anslinger, federal narcotics chief, several weeks ago — that the bureau would supply O'Neill with complete information about any Ohioan arrested in the United States on a narcotic charge.

Cause of Evils

"Nothing that these men who spend their lives fighting narcotics have said has impressed me more than their unanimous belief that the narcotic traffic is responsible for a great percentage of the major crimes committed throughout the country. They know, by their day by day contact with the addict, of whom only one in ten is ever permanently cured, and with the dope peddler, that narcotics is the greatest law enforcement problem in the United States, and that it is a grave threat to our youth," O'Neill said.

"While it is apparent," he said, "that the actual exchange between seller and addict takes place most often in the larger cities, the crimes that addicts must of necessity commit in order to spend the more than $100 a week that their habit costs, take place anywhere in the state, and because these people are 'floaters' and must move as often as their sources moves, the resulting crime pattern covers a widespread area."

Statewide Probe

The attorney general said the investigation—results of which will not be announced until next July—will be conducted by enlisting the aid of all state and local law enforcement officials.

"We intend to accept the cooperation of every agent and officer on every level, and of every civic minded Ohioan to determine the scope of this problem. If, as federal authorities have indicated to date, Ohio is the major center of midwest narcotics traffic, then we must find a way to eliminate it."

Change in Law Proposed

Brownell Would Make Wire-Tapping Legal Source of Evidence in Spy Cases

By MARTIN S. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON (NANA) — An old debate in which many argue and few know what they are talking about was reopened last week by Attorney General Herbert E. Brownell's proposal that Congress change the rules on "wiretapping" by federal policemen.

Brownell's recommendation echoes similar proposals by his Democratic predecessors since 1937.

Each time opponents have argued, and Congress agreed, that the late Oliver Wendell Holmes was right when he called wiretapping "dirty business." Just as consistently both have ignored the fact that an FBI agent, like a curious farm wife, can at present legally snoop on any phone wire—just so he doesn't use what he hears to jail a kidnaper, spy or racketeer.

A series of court rulings and one sentence of a 1934 law have created the paradox that Brownell would abolish.

IT BEGAN IN THE 1920's when federal agents tapped wires, knocked off a West Coast bootleg ring and set the stage for "Olmstead versus The United States" in the Supreme Court. Four justices, led by Holmes, said the officers had violated the constitutional sanctity of the bootlegger's home by listening to his phone calls; five, led by Chief Justice Taft, said that was not so.

Thus approved by the high court, wiretapping stayed legal until 1934 when Congress added to the Federal Communications Act one sentence which Brownell would now change. It reads: "No person, not being authorized by the sender, shall intercept any communication and divulge or publish the existence, contents, substance — or meaning of such intercepted communicatoins to any persons."

Two more Supreme Court rulings in what is known as the Nardone smuggling case established the present ground rules on wiretapping.

In that case federal agents tapped all the pay telephones in New York's Astor Hotel to catch the smugglers who habitually used them. The resultant "air tight" case died a double death in the court.

IN 1937 THE JUSTICE first reversed the smugglers' conviction on the theory that the trial judge erred when he let the government repeat the intercepted phone conversations, in violation of the sentence in the FCC act.

Two years later a secod Nardone conviction was thrown out on the ground that evidence uncovered through leads obtained by wire-tapping was also inadmissible.

Attorney generals over the past 20 years have listed actual and hypothetical cases to illustrate the result and support pleas that the law be changed.

Under the present law, it has been noted, the FBI can, and does admittedly use wiretapping in kinap cases where it is believed the victim is still alive. But, if it can later be shown in court that the arrest of the kidnaper resulted from wiretap information that he would be on a specific corner at a specific hour, then the case goes out the window.

IN THE JUDITH COPLON spy trial this point was debated for hours. Defense attorneys argued that, if the FBI hadn't listened when the government stenographer was arranging a New York date with her Russian lover, Valentin A. Gubitchev, agents would not have been on hand to arrest the pair and recover allegedly stolen secret documents. The government beat that effort on the ground that it had other leads to the tryst and the case lived to die on a second technicality, i.e., that the street-corner arrest was illegal because the gents had no warrant.

On Jan. 24, 1942, the late Supreme Court Justice Roberts reported to President Roosevelt, as the chairman of a special inquiry commission investigating the Pearl Harbor defeat. He said restrictions on "obtaining content of messages transmitted by telephone or radio telephone over the commercial lines operating between Oahu and Japan" had contributed to the surprise and disaster.

Later it developed the FBI had been tapping these phone wires and several days before the attack warned the military of the content of the messages intercepted. Under the law, and its interpretations, however, the information obtained could not be used in treason or other prosecutions.

IN 1938, on recommendation of Attorney General Cummings, both houses of Congress passed slightly varying bills which would have approved court use of wiretap evidence, provided the head of an executive department had authorized the taps. Both bills died in conference committee.

In 1941, the House gave the Roosevelt Aministration its only defeat of that congressional session when it rejected 154-to-147 a similar bill to let the FBI wiretap, and use evidence, if the Attorney General first gave his specific approval. In 1942 the House passed a bill to give the same authority in wartime only; the Senate ignored it.

Brownell's new proposal was briefed at the end of his testimony in the sensational Harry Dexter White case. Having noted that alleged spies in government might have been prosecuted had the FBI been able to use what it picked up by phone tapping, he said he would ask Congress to legalize such evidence in espionage cases only.

WHEN HE MAKES his formal move it is anticipated Brownell will repeat the summary of the present law which was given to Congress in 1940 by the then attorney general (now Supreme Court justice) Robert H. Jackson.

"There is no federal statute," Jackson said, "that prohibits or punishes wiretapping alone. The only offense under the present law is to intercept any communication and divulge or publish the same. Any person, with no risk of penalty, may tap telephone wires and eavesdrop on his competitor, employer, workmen, or others, and act upon what he hears, or make any use of it that does not involve divulging or publication. . . .

"The (federal) courts do not stop people from tapping wires. No one has ever been or could be convicted of the by itself. What has been stopped is the use of the evidence to enforce the law against criminals."

Noted Surgeon Dies in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. Reed Shank, 60, a member of the University of Cincinnati Board of Trustees and widely known as a physician and surgeon, died yesterday while watching the Cincinnati-Miami football game.

Death apparently was due to a heart attack.

Dr. Shank, who for many years had served as physician for UC's athletic teams and the Cincinnati Reds of the National League, was stricken as he sat in a box with friends and relatives He died in the office of M. Charles Mileham, university athletic director.

Dr. Shank was a native of Rawson and came to Cincinnati in 1912. An ardent supporter of all types of athletics, he was chairman of the Athletic Committee of the UC Board of Trustees.

He served in the medical corps in World War I.

Survivors are the widow; a daughter, Mrs. Lois Ballou; two sons, Reed A. Shank Jr., and Charles L. Shank; his mother, Mrs. Clara Shank of Cleveland; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Shank Jones of Cleveland and two brothers, Waldo H. and Paul Shank of Toledo.

Mexico's Traffic Violators Threatened With Jail Terms

MEXICO CITY (UP)—A quiet-talking grandfather is busy taking the "bite" out of Mexico City's traffic problem and putting teeth in traffic laws.

Gen. Antonio Gomez Velasco has a big hand in President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines' efforts to "moralize" the Mexican government. In fact, the president was one of the most-widely publicized victims of the campaign when a young traffic cop refused to let the executive's chauffered auto make an illegal U-turn.

The general, on detached service from the Army, has reorganized the traffic department so thoroughly that there has been an 80 per cent turnover in personnel in the past year.

Gomez Velasco admits that the 330 peso ($37.80) a month the average traffic cop is paid is barely enough to keep a single man alive. He found that many married men, with large families, were practically forced to accept "bites" to keep body and soul together.

"The bite" is Mexican slang for the small bribes with which minor traffic violations used to be settled out of court.

What with current efforts to hold down govenment expenditures there is no possibility of increasing the pay of the police force for several years at least.

So, the general's traffic police department is concentrating on replacement of those men caught "biting" motorists with younger, unmarried men who can live on the police pay.

Actually, a point most capital drivers don't know is that the cops directing traffic no longer have the power, or even the book of tickets, to tag a traffic violator. Only the force's 150 picked motorcycle police and inspectors carry books of tickets with them.

The cop at an intersection is supposed to direct traffic and merely take down the license number of a law-breaking motorist and pass it on to his superiors. Several days later, the violator is visited at home by an investigator and gets his ticket. The plan allows the traffic-directing policeman to dedicate almost full time to his chief job. And it reduces temptation.

With less than 1,000 traffic cops to direct movement of the more than 160,000 licensed vehicles in this city of 3,000,000 inhabitants, Gomez Velasco scratched his head for a plan to obtain a measure of self-discipline from the public. And he found it.

Mandatory jail sentences for serious and repeat offenders, particularly speeders and drunken drivers, will install respect for the law, the general believes. Up to now, light to moderate fines, usually from 50 to 500 pesos ($5.80 to $58), have been levied for serious infractions.

"The average man who can afford an auto in Mexico can easily pay such fines, again and again," the General said. "But, after the first time he spends a week end in jail—never again."

Former Mt. Gilead Man Dies After Auto Mishap

MT. GILEAD — Merle Truex, 41, of Sandusy, a former Mt. Gilead resident, died at a Toledo hospital Thursdays of injuries suffered in an automobile accident a week ago. The accident occurred as he was returning from Michigan where he had been deer hunting.

Born in Morrow County on Nov. 23, 1912, he was the son of Fird and Leona Truex.

Surviving are: two sisters, Mrs. Carl Shade of Mt. Gilead; and Mrs. Earl Thomas of Sandusky; one brother, Clark of Cardington.

He had lived in Mt. Gilead until 10 years ago when he moved to Sandusky. He was a member of the Bryn Zion Church of near Mt. Gilead.

The body will arrive at the Craven Funeral Home in Mt. Gilead at noon Sunday and funeral services will be conducted there at 2 p.m. Burial will be at Bryn Zion Cemetery.

More Arrests Promised in Danvers Case

Federal Official Says Fresh Leads Being Followed by FBI

BOSTON (AP)—A federal official said today the Federal Bureau of Investigation expects to make more arrests in the $681,700 robbery from a parked armored car in Danvers 20 months ago.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Edward D. Hassan said the FBI "seemed to know who they were looking for and they told me they expected to make more arrests soon."

The FBI refused to comment.

A family of three is under arrest in connection with the second biggest cash robbery in U.S. History—the bold theft from an armored car of the United States Trucking Co. which was left unattended on Danvers Square while its three guards sipped coffee in a nearby drug store.

Arrested Wednesday night were George D. O'Brien, 43, an ex-convict; his wife, Margaret, 42, mother of three children.

The father was charged with the theft of property from a federal reserve bank. He is being held in $100,000 bail for hearing Dec. 9. The mother and a son were charged with receiving stolen property. The son is being held in $5,000. The mother is free on her personal recognizance.

Local police officials reported they were informed FBI agents went to the Lincoln Downs horse rack track in Rhode Island yesterday in search of other suspects but the FBI refused to confirm that.

The FBI also refused to confirm a report that they arrested the O'Briens in connection with the robbery in Danvers, 20 miles north of Boston, although O'Brien originally was being investigated for the $1,219,000 Brink's Boston counting room robbery of January 1950.

The Brink's robbery represents the biggest cash haul in the country's history.

22-Year Secret 'Romance' Is Revealed

Nashville Pair Give Up Family, Riches for Happiness

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—The enduring love of Betty McCuddy and Tom Buntin, the full story of a secret even from their children after 22 years, rallied friends and neighbors to their side today.

Back in 1931, insurance man Thomas C. Buntin of Nashville, Tenn.—called an alcoholic incapable of earning a living outside his wealthy family's business—disappeared. Six weeks later, after Buntin's will had been mailed from St. Louis, the pretty Russellville, Ky., girl who had been his secretary vanished too.

The cost to the lovelorn pair: a wife, three sons, family prestige and a thriving business to him; her family and a share in a million dollar estate for unmarried Betty.

Only rumor and speculation ever connected the two disappearances. As much of the story as anybody knows began in Brownsville, Tex., weeks after the disappearances when Tom and Betty decided to let their love flower in the lush Rio Grande Valley. Their plane to New Orleans was grounded there by bad weather. They moved here from Brownsville about five years ago.

Tom, 28, proved not to be the ne'er-do-well a Tennessee Supreme Court branded him. He and 22-year-old Betty stayed in Texas and somewhere along the years assumed the names of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Palmer.

Yesterday, their love—after 22 years of happiness and six children—was splashed across the nation's front pages. The Nashville Tennessean broke the story in a copyrighted dispatch.

Today, dazed by the quick developments, the tall, thin man and the motherly woman with gray in her hair waited to tell their love story to children rushing to their home here.

Neighbors dropped by to chat last night as Tom and Betty, four of their children with them, ate a belated Thanksgiving day dinner. Silent and miserable, almost bitter earlier in the day, they took on a more cheerful manner as their old friends rallied around.

"They're among the finest people I know," a prominent Orange resident told the Associated Press.

"Everybody in the neighborhood thinks the world of them," a neighbor told reporters.

"We were in love," Betty told Nashville Tennessean reporter John Seigenthaler. "Money didn't mean too much to us. If money had meant anything, we wouldn't have done what we did."

Both prepared today to return to their jobs to which they commute in nearby Beaumont. Tom's an employe of an appliance firm. Betty works as a court stenographer.

FOUND AFTER 22 YEARS. Thomas C. Buntin (hatless) leaves Beaumont, Tex., bus station with two other Orange, Tex., commuters (upper photo). Buntin, member of a socially-prominent family in Nashville, Tenn., disappeared in 1931 with his secretary, Betty McCuddy (lower photo). Both were declared legally dead years ago. They were found by an insurance company which announced Nov. 6 that it had found Buntin alive. The couple, known as Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Palmer, live in a frame house in Orange, Tex., with four of their six children. They have one grandchild. (AP Wirephoto—Copyright 1953 by the Tennessean Newspapers, Inc.)

Mrs. Buntin and Tom agreed that she would come to Texas soon to visit the Palmers.

Meanwhile, David, 18, Tom's and Betty's oldest boy, and Jane prepared to come home for a first-hand account of the 22-year-old romance.

The changes time has brought: Buntin's wife is married to Louie Phillips, president of the Broadway National Bank of Nashville. Betty's brother was killed in a 1936 plane crash. Betty's mother died shortly after her daughter disappeared.

6 Drivers Stopped By Highway Patrol

Six motorists were stopped for traffic violations in the last 24 hours by state patrolmen from the Marion post.

Herbert Snyder, 24, of 326 Cherry St. was sentenced today to five days in Marion County jail, fined $100 and costs, and had his driving rights suspended for three years. He was arrested Thursday night on a city street and charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

James Cotzen, 28, of Connersville, Ind., was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Don Healea of Cardington. He was charged with passing on a yellow line. Edward Carver, 28, of South Charleston, W. Va., was also fined $10 and costs on a charge of passing on a yellow line. He was fined by Justice of the Peace Spriggs of Mt. Gilead.

Motorists issued citations for appearance in Municipal Court or who posted bond and the charge follow: George Ware, 54, of Columbus, passing on a yellow line; Lenora Robertson, 31, of 174 Edwards St., parking on the highway; and Lloyd Barnett, 24, of Detroit, Mich., passing on a yellow line.

Man Asks To Try Used Automobile, Disappears

Marion police today are on the look-out for an unidentified man who Wednesday night walked into the Albert and Adams used car lot on N. Main St. and asked to try out a 1947 model car.

Each of two salesmen who talked to the man told police they thought the other knew him and allowed him to take the car. Since that time, neither the car nor the man have been seen. Police said today a John Doe warrant may be sworn out for the arrest of the man.

Two Men Fined, Jailed On Intoxication Charge

Stiff fines of $100 and costs were handed out to two persons charged with intoxication in Municipal Court this morning.

Judge W. Dexter Hazen said he fined Ernest Rabon, 34, who has no address, and Marcile K. Wheeler of the Dixie Hotel heavily because both appeared in Municipal Court for third time today. e said both were brought in twice before this week on intoxication charges and had been given suspended fines so they would not have to spend Thanksgiving in jail.

Rabon was arrested at 7:11 p.m. yesterday at the Union Depot and Miss Wheeler was arrested at 8:23 p.m. last night on Silver St.

Nether was able to pay their fines this morning and both are being held in the Marion County jail.

Crash Victim Undergoes Operation in Hospital

Mrs. Robert Limbert of 125 E. Columbia St., who was injured in a two-car auto collision in Bucyrus last week, underwent surgery Wednesday at Marion City Hospital.

Her condition is reported too serious to permit visitors.

Mrs. Limbert suffered a broken neck and fractured left clavicle last Sunday when the car driven b. William O. Denny, 60, of Bucyrus collided with one driven by Edward Schott, 22, also of Bucyrus. Mrs. Limbert was taken to Bucyrus City Hospital and later transferred to Marion. Her husband, also a passenger in the Denny car, was released from the Bucyrus hospital after treatment.

Berlin Women Fight Budgets

Wives Must Stretch Workers' Meager Wage

BERLIN (UP) — West Berlin housewives, veterans of both hot and cold war, are fighting another battle—this one shared by women the world over.

It's the battle of the budget.

The average Berlin homemaker lived through thte battle of Berlin and the numerous air raids of World War II. Then came the Soviet land blockade, when she was called the city's real heroine.

Now, she's trying to equalize income and outgo of money. Her troubles are typified by those of 41-year-old Kaethe Bornemann, wife of a West Berlin clerk and mother of two children, Helmut, 11, and Ingel 8.

Husband Hans, 43, who works for a small textile firm, has a monthly income of about $95. But taxes and social insurance payments eat up about one-sixth of his salary.

Of his take-home pay of $83, Hans keeps only about $9.50 for himself. Part of this allowance goes for carfare, and in addition Hans can afford just six cigarettes a day, an occasional glass of beer and a rare evening at the movies with his wife.

Frau ornemann spends a little more than half of the net income on food. "This means I have only about $1.50 a day to feed a family of four," she explains.

Butter is not included in the family budget and there is little meat, but Frau Bornemann manages to give her children milk and some fruit every day.

For breakfast the friendly dark-haired housewife usually cooks cereal soup. In addition, there are black bread, margarine and some cheap jam.

A vegetable stew cooked with lots of potatoes and sometimes a little meat is a frequent dish for the main midday meal. Tea and coffee are served at the Bornemann's only as a special treat on Sundays.

The Bornemahns are lucky because they live in a relatively cheap two-room apartment with kitchen and bath in an old tenement house where they pay about $11 monthly for rent.

About 5 per cent of Mrs. Bornemann's budget is spent on electricity and on wood and coal for the old-fashioned cooking stove in the kitchen and the two pot-belly stoves that heat the apartment in winter.

The rest of the money goes for clothing.

Last month Helmut needed a pair of shoes that came to about $5.50 and little Inge must has a sweater and other warm things for school this winter.

What with her husband needing shirts, underwear and socks, the Berlin housewife feels she will have to stand back once more, as she has done often before, in favor of her family.

WOMEN ANGLERS HAVE ANGLE

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—Mary Mack, columnist for the Poplar Bluff American Republic, has figured out why 25 per cent of the anglers nowadays are women. Says Mary: "The average woman now has so many labor saving devices that it's a terrific strain to keep them all in operation. She needs the relaxtion of a pleasant fishing trip. If men were half as smart as they would have us believe, they would know that a wife who understands the joys of angling will be much more agreeable about her husband's fishing jaunts."

GLAMORIZE YOUR LEFTOVER TURKEY... MAKE A BISCUIT SHELL THEN ADD INGREDIENTS—

3 tablespoons Spry, 3 tablespoons flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, ⅛ teaspoon celery salt, 1¾ cups milk and mushroom liquid combined, ½ cup canned sliced mushrooms, drained, ½ pimiento, cut in thin strips, 2 tablespoons chopped almonds (optional), 1 cup cooked turkey, cut in pieces. Melt Spry in saucepan; add flour, seasonings; blend. Stir in milk gradually; cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Add rest of ingredients; keep hot over hot water while making biscuit shell.

Central Ohio Valley Groups Plug for Plant

United To Sell AEC On Locating Project In Three-State Area

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Civic leaders in the central Ohio Valley area are doing their best to sell the Atomic Energy Commission on their territory as a plant location.

The prize is a new atomic pilot plant which an AEC member says will work with private industry to develop the potentialities of atomic energy for peacetime use. Size of the proposed plant, number of workers to be employed and cost are unknown.

AEC Commissioner Thomas E. Murray was quoted in a recent speech as saying a location near one of the present atomic plants would be desirable. There are atomic plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Paducah, Ky., and Pike County, Ohio.

Latest move to attract the plant to the Ohio Valley area is the formation here of the Central Ohio Valley Industrial Assn., by 17 communities in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

But the association members, while united in efforts to bring the proposed plant to the Ohio Valley, each have pet sites they would like the AEC to consider. They are:

West Virginia—An 8,000 acre tract near Point Pleasant, mostly government-owned and used for a World War II TNT plant. West Virginians tried unsuccessfully to sell the AEC on locating there the gaseous diffusion plant now being built in Pike County.

Kentucky—Two sites are offered near Vanceburg.

Ohio—Several sites are favored in the vicinity of the Pike County plant north of Portsmouth and Ironton, near where the Dow Chemical Co. holds options on a large area.

Two high AEC officials are scheduled to visit the Portsmouth area Dec. 4 on an inspection trip to the Pike County plant and the million-killowatt power plant being constructed by Kyger Creek, near Gallipolis.

Rep. Will E. Neal of Huntington (R—W. Va) says he believes the AEC is in no hurry to choose a site and that plans for the project are not too well laid out.

MORROW YOUTHS INDUCTED

MT. GILEAD — Four Morrow County youths left Monday morning to be inducted into the armed forces at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, according to Harriett Miracle, clerk of the county draft board. They were: George H. Taylor, Mt. Gilead; Duane Campbell, Mt. Gilead; Harlan Barrick, of Chesterville; and Richard Borders of Galion.

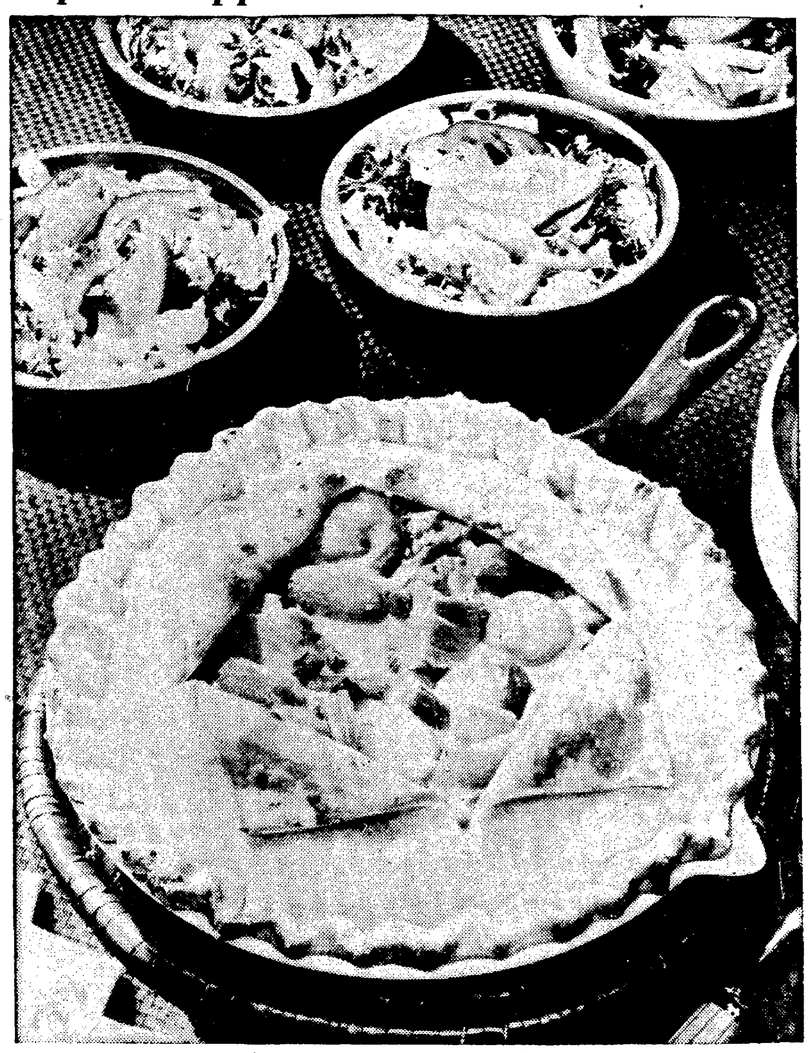
Tempt the Appetite With a Tuna-Cheese Pie



You can make an everyday favorite into something special. Creamed tuna with vegetables takes on new flavor as tuna-cheese pie. With a cheese pastry crust, it's pretty enough to serve when company comes.

Serve it with a green salad, hot apple sauce on gingerbread and a hot beverage and you'll be a popular hostess.

To prepare, use:

1 can condensed cream of celery soup
1 No. 303 can (about 1 lb.) carrots or green beans (or combination of 2 cups of both vegetables)
1 can (7-oz.) solid-pack tuna, drained and flaked in large pieces.
1 can (8-oz.) small whole onions, drained
1-3 cup grated Cheddar cheese
½ package pie crust mix

Blend soup with ½ cup liquid (drained from green beans or carrots, or use evaporated milk). Add tuna and vegetables; heat. Add cheese to pie crust mix; prepare according to label directions. Roll out pie crust on lightly floured board or pastry crust. Turn hot tuna mixture into 9-inch pie pan. Place pastry over tuna filling; trim edges and flute. If desired cut x in top of crust, and fold points back to make window in top of pie. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.)20 to 25 minutes, or until crust is golden-brown. Makes 4 servings.

GOLD DUST

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — When the Fairway Realty Co. took over a building formerly occupied by Ostby & Barton, manufacturing jewelers, workmen with vacuum cleaners "prospected" the place inch by inch. From floor and ceiling cracks, the "miners" recovered nearly $40,000 worth of gold and silver particles—enough to pay a large part of remodeling costs.

Chinese Crops Thriving In Mississippi Garden

GREENVILLE, Miss. (UP) — Four years ago James Chow, a local grocer, got hungry for the vegetables of his native China.

He ordered some seeds from Hongkong and planted them in a three-acre plot along the bank of the Mississippi River. He now raises 12 varieties—including two-foot-long string beans and white melons which can be made into soup or fried and kept for two years. Chow sells his produce to Chinese-Americans as far away as Houston, Tex.

$150,000 Fire Hits Cincinnati

Five Firemen Hurt In Downtown Blaze

CINCINNATI (AP) — Five firemen were injured and a five-story downtown building was wrecked last night as fire swept through the structure with a loss estimated at $150,000.

Firemen, responding to a general alarm, succeeded in confining the flames to the one building. One wall of the building collapsed.

Four floors of the building were occupied by the Foltzer Electric City. The other floor contained records of the Applachian Coal Co.

Louis Foltzer, head of the electric company, estimated the value of the building at $100,000 and said his firm had merchandise valued at $50,000.

Red-Led Electrical Union Reported in Nine Plants in Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine Ohio manufacturing plants have been listed by Rep. Kersten (R—Wis) among 118 defense plants which he said "are penetrated by the Communist-dominated United Electrical Workers Union" and have government contracts of half a million dollars or more each.

He said in a statement here many of the contracts involve "classified security information."

Kersten said he was authorized to make public the names of the plants by Robert L. Applegate, director of the industrial security division of the Defense Department.

The congressman said he will introduce legislation in the next session of Congress to "put a stop to this dangerous situation."

The Ohio plants on his list were: Alliance Mfg. Co., Alliance; American Steel Foundries, and American Tool Works Co., Cincinnati; Monarch Machine Tool Co., Sidney; Ohio Brass Co., Mansfield; Picker X-ray Corp., Cleveland, and General Electric plants at Bucyrus, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Barons Defeat Troy 3-1, To Take Over Second Place

Marion Club Notches 4th Straight in Holiday Game

Special to The Star

TROY — The Marion Barons moved into second place here yesterday with a well-played 3-1 victory over the Troy Bruins before 2,089 fans in Hobart Arena.

It was an unusually well-played contest for nearly three periods until Troy folded completely with less than four minutes to play.

It was the fourth straight win for the high-flying Barons and their sixth in the last seven games.

For 46 minutes and 15 seconds the two teams played scoreless hockey but Dutch DelMonte broke the ice when he hit the red light on an unassisted play at 6:15.

Lou Crowdis turned in an exceptionally good game for the winners as he kicked back 32 of the 33 shots that came his way.

The actual winning goal was turned in by Gordon Vejprava with help from Wimpy Jones and Jerry Prince at 17:39 and Prince made it 3-0 at 18:10 with assists going to W. Jones and Ted Lebioda.

Bobby Rawlyk scored Troy's lone goal at 19:18 with help from Juluis Swick and George Edward.

The game was spiced by several penalties seven of which came at one point in the first period when the two teams engaged in an old fashion bar room brawl in front of the Troy net. With sticks and gloves scattered all over the ice Referee Harold Jackson assessed four five-minute fighting penalties. One misconduct and two-minute interference miscue.

Fox Pins Williams In Armory Match

Billy Fox decisioned Scotty Williams in the main event on the wrestling program at the Marion Armory Thursday night.

Fox took the first fall with a toe hold in 13 minutes but Williams evened it up 11 minutes later with an arm strangle. Fox took the third and deciding fall with a crab hold. His arm hurt in the second fall, Fox was favoring it in the third fall as Williams kept after it.

Ricky Waldo was declared winner in his match with Sandro Fozo as the latter was disqualified by the referee for roughness after 10 minutes.

Dona Marie Dieckman and Barbara Baker won their team match when the team of Juanita Coffman and Janey Jarvision was disqualified by the Marion Wrestling Commission for roughing Baker in their corner.

Coffman had taken the opening fall in 13 minutes with body slams and a press over baker but the latter came back to pin Jarvison with a jack knife in 10 minutes. The season's largest crowd, approximately 500 persons, watched the Thanksgiving Day matches.

Detroit Dumps Packers, Needs Two for Title

DETROIT (AP)— Bobby Layne wouldn't let a sore arm, or some sore fans, bother him.

So today the Detroit Lions were within two games of clinching their second straight championship in the Western Division of the National Football League.

Layne, who had been roundly booed by irate Detroit fans who felt he was hurting the team, struck back at his critics yesterday by combining with end Cloyce Box on a spectacular 97-yard touchdown pass play against the Green Bay Packers.

It was the longest scoring pass in Detroit history. The Lions went on to win 34-15.

Standing in his own end zone, Layne lofted a third-period pass which carried 65 yards in the air. Box gathered it in behind Ace Loomis, Green Bay's top pass defender, and coasted the rest of the way. It brought the Lions to within one point of Green Bay, 15-14, and set the pace for Detroit's 27-point explosion in the second half.

And Layne did it with an extremely sore arm. It had hurt him so much, in fact, that he didn't throw one pass in the regular practice sessions. Nobody knew this except the Lions and they kept it a well-guarded secret until after the game.

The Lions now face the Chicago Bears Dec. 6 and the New York Giants Dec. 13.

Biggest Livestock Show Set To Open Tonight in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's biggest agricultural show, the International Livestock Exposition, opens tonight with some five million dollars worth of prize livestock and crops on exhibition.

The 54th annual exposition, which opens with a horse show performance, will run through Dec. 5 at the International Ampitheater at the Chicago Stock Yards. Some 500,000 persons are expected to attend the exposition.

Farmers and stockmen from 37 states and 3 Canadian provinces will exhibit in the competitions for 26 breeds of cattle, sheep, swine and draft horses. Entries in the International Hay and Grain Show are from 26 states, Canada and Germany for the world's largest crop exhibition.

SHORT SPORTS
By John Short

Marion fans had to wait until two weeks after the season closed for their biggest jolt of the campaign. That came today with the release of the league coaches' selection for all-league honors.

SHORT

The rugged Prexy defensive unit landed just one player on the first string defensive team. Fred Price was the only Harding boy to nail down a berth on that unit.

Doug Bibler and Jim Whaley managed to win honorable mention but that was it. Only one player from the No. 2 defensive team in the circuit deserved a place on the honor squad, according to the coaches.

The Harding defense allowed 44 points in its five league scraps and 32 of that total was posted by the champions of Fremont Ross. Four other schools managed to notch only 12 points and yet the coaches overlooked the Prexies.

The Findlay Trojans, blanked 27-0 by Harding, placed two on the defensive unit despite the fact, the Findlay defense collapsed completely against the top two teams in the league. Bowling Green was shutout by Harding and still came up with an equal number of all-league defensive men as did Tiffin Columbian, whose defense managed to stop no one.

Biggest boner in the selections was the placing of Findlay's Bob Emerson at a backfield post over Harding's Doug Bibler or Joe Snouffer. And on the basis of the Fremont game we would be forced to take Hank Rinnert at defensive center over Fremont's Tom Cooper.

Overlooked completely by the coaches was the most rugged defensive line in the league. Abner Thomas, Bob Prater, Rinnert, Snouffer and the rest of the local squad deserved more consideration as did the two who managed to swing the honorable mention notices.

Someone in charge of tabulating the votes should be cornered. Marion fans will be demanding a recount after that boner.

Featherweights Collide In Television Ring Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Chalky Wright believes the "Broadway wise guys" are going to get a shock tonight when his Davey Gallardo takes on classy Lulu Perez in a return 10 - rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The "wise guys" have made Perez, a 20-year-old Brooklyn speed boy, a 3-1 favorite to hang another defeat on the 23-year-old Los Angeles featherweight.

Giel, Caroline Split Honors In Big Ten Grid Statistics

CHICAGO (AP)—Four Big Ten records were broken and another matched as Illinois' J. C. Caroline and Minnesota's Paul Giel split honors in official conference football statistics released today.

Sophomore Caroline's rushing record of 919 yards in six conference games was certified as well as Giel's workhorse records.

Giel set a new-one game mark of 53 individual plays—35 rushes and 18 passes—and a season record of 163 rushes.

The 163 erased the previous high of 147 by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche in seven games in 1951 while posting the previous rushing yardage record of 774.

Howard "Hopalong" Cassady Ohio State sophomore, set another record with 14 kickoff runbacks for a total of 328 yards and a 23.4 average. Caroline, however topped him in runback average with 27.6 on six returns.

Illinois's other sophomore halfback Mickey Bates, matched a modern conference record of four touchdowns in one game, against Ohio State. He led scorers with 54 points to miss a season mark.

Giel for the second time in three years won total offense honors with 580 yards rushing and 457 passing for 1,037. Caroline was second with his 919 total, all by rushing. He tried only one pass, and it was incomplete.

Sophomore Jim Miller of Wisconsin was ranked first in passing with 683 yards and six touchdowns. Giel had the best completion percentage with .551 and Indiana's Florian Helinski had a high of 106 attempts hitting on 43.

Team honors were divided by co-champions Illinois and Michigan State. The Illini, averaging 284.5 yards per game rushing, led in total offense with an average of 359.3.

Michigan State was No. 1 on defense, yielding 188.5 yards per game, a low of 8.3 points and a per-play gain of 3.16. Iowa had the best defensive record against rushing, holding foes to a 121.5 average.

Al Rosen Named American League's Most Valuable

Cleveland Slugger Wins Honor on Unanimous Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Rosen, Cleveland's slugging third baseman, was named Most Valuable Player of the American League today by an unprecedented unanimous vote.

All 24 members of the committee of the Baseball Writers Assn., three from each American League city, named Rosen first. Thus the 28-year-old infielder won the award in a landslide with a maximum 336 points.

The highest previous total was run up by Lou Boudreau with 324 points in 1948, the year he led Cleveland to the world championship. Best score in National League history was Stan Musial's 319 in 1946.

To touch off this demonstration of solid support, Rosen led the league in home runs with 43, runs batted in with 145 and just missed nipping Washington's Mickey Vernon for the batting championship. Vernon finished with an unofficial .337 to Rose's .336.

This was Rosen's fourth full season in the majors although he also appeared briefly in 1947, 1948 and 1949. It was by far his most impressive performance. When Rosen first came to the majors his fielding left much to be desired but he worked hard to improve himself to move out of the "chest fielder" category.

AL ROSEN

Yogi Berra, New York Yankee catcher and 1951 winner, finished second to Rosen with 167 points, and Vernon was third with 165 points. Actually Vernon polled 10 seconds to only 5 for Berra but the votes for third, fourth and so on gave Berra more points. Berra hits .297 drove in 108 runs and hit 27 homers. Vernon knocked in 116 runs, second to Rosen.

Under the scoring system, a first-place vote counts 12 points with a drop to 9 for second and so on down on a 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Other top finishers were Minnie Minoso, Chicago, fourth with 100 points; Virgil Trucks, Chicago, fifth, 81; Phil Rizzuto, New York, sixth, 76; Bob Porterfield, Washington, seventh, 64; Ray Boone, Detroit, eighth, 59; Jim Piersall, Boston, 56; and Billy Pierce, Chicago, 55.

Five Schools Withdraw From Middle-Buckeye

MT. GILEAD—Five teams withdrew from the Middle Buckeye football and basketball league at a meeting this week at the Big Walnut School at Sunbury.

Mt. Gilead, Richwood, Cardington, Elm Valley, and Big Walnut withdrew. All teams however, will play in the league for this basketball season.

The first four teams mentioned above are members of the Mid-Ohio conference with Marion St. Mary and Olentangy of Delaware county. Big Walnut has also been invited to join the Mid-Ohio. If it accepts the invitation there will be seven teams in the league. Acceptance of Big Walnut is now up to the athletic board.

The Middle-Buckeye League is expected to remain in existance with Centerburg, Utica and Johnstown of the old league forming a basis for a new league. Representatives of the Fredericktown, Danville and Granville schools were present at the meeting to discuss membership in the Middle-Buckeye Conference. Hebron, Summit Station and other class B schools may be invited to join the eastern league. Bellville did not have any representatives present at the meeting.

The split was made to an eastern and western league because of the traveling distance involved between some of the teams in the old Middle Buckeye league.

L. Wilson hit 231 and J. Clark totaled 562 to pace keglers in the Business Men's League at Palace Recreation Wednesday. Team honors were copped by Maniaci's Market with 950 and Clark Metal Products with 2674. A total of eight 200 games were posted. A 201-576 by Mac Metz was tops in the Osgood Affiliated League where Bob Higley and Fred Spurlock each hit 200 games. Marion Machine Tool rolled 833 and General Ex Dubbers totaled 2402 for team laurels.

Marion Cagers Open YMCA's Tourney; Play Resumes Today

Calvary Evangelical, Marion Industries and Bird-McGinnis came through with victories in the opening round of the YMCA Invitational Basketball Tournament Wednesday at the YMCA.

Three games are carded for tonight when McMillen Feed meets Raymond at 7, the Waldo Merchants face off with Graven's of Bucyrus and the strong Frame Bureau five of Columbus tangle with the Marion A. C.

Calvary surprised Power Shovel by taking a close 45-44 verdict in a close contest. Calvary held a 12-10 edge at the first quarter and maintained the lead at halftime 23-22. The Shovel tied up the game at the start of the final period but succumbed to the strong Church league contendor in the final minutes. Chief Bender lead the winners with 13 points while Dick Seiter had eight for the Shovel.

Marion Industries had little trouble in dropping North Electric of Mt. Gilead, running to a 11-point lead before the Mt. Gilead five could find the range from the field. Robbie Miller, former Harding star, had a torrid evening scoring 23 points from his spot around the boards. Harold Dillion added 13 in the Industries 53-21 victory.

Bird-McGinnis, new addition to the YMCA Independent League, eased away slowly to a 47-34 win over Alloy Cast Steel in the final game. Holding a 13-11 first quarter lead, the winners gradually pulled away from the Alloy five in the remaining three quarters. Jack Daum led the scorers with 12 for Alloy while Don Williams paced the winners with 13. Richy Wolfe, former Harding star, added 11 to the Bird-McGinnis cause. The tournament will continue this evening and tomorrow on the south gym. Saturday's play will see the powerful Meyers Pumps of Ashland in action against the winner of tonight's Waldo-Graven battle. That game will be played at 7 p. m. and will be followed by the Pythian Drugs of Columbus against the Ashley Merchants and Green Camp Elevator against the UAW-CIO team from Marion Industries.

Fremont Dominates

Ballinger, Caldwell, Hamor Named All-Buckeye-League

Three Harding gridders won spots on the All-Buckeye League team selected by coaches at the six league schools, W. W. Nixon, secretary of officials, announced today.

Gary Ballinger was named to a backfield berth while Bob HaHmor, the Prexies' top candidate for All-Ohio honors nailed down a spot at tackel. Bob Caldwell finished in a tie with Fremont's John Goodeman for the center berth.

Fremont's champions dominated the selections as six in addition to Goodeman were named. With the exception of Ballinger the entire backfield was composed of Fremonters. Lester Franks, Ron Whitcomb and Ted Houghtaling were all named. On the line, Ross placed Frank Lenhart at an end, Dick Harder at a tackle, Bill Amor at guard and Goodeman.

The team was rounded out by BowlingGreen's Nick Sofios at an end and Don Hauser of Fostoria at guard.

A defensive team, also selected by the coaches, listed only one Prexy. Fred Price nailed down a spot as a defensive backfield man. Fremont also dominated the defensive unit with five players.

Henry Tiller was placed at an end, John Jones at tackle, Willard White at guard, Tom Cooper at center and Charley Black in the backfield. The remainder of the team had Dave Drake of Tiffin at end, Ray Lewis of Bowling Green at tackle, Fred Stall of Findlay at guard, and Bob Emerson of Findlay and Hubert Landers of Fostoria in the backfield.

Jim Whaley, Harding end, and Doug Bibler, back, received honorable mention. Gerry Gallaher, Fremont tackle, Harvey Kerchner, Tiffin guard, Tom Mitchell, Bowling Green back, and Haldon Black, Fremont back, also received honorable mention.

Richwood Cagers Win Third Straight

RICHWOOD—Richwood's Tigers stopped Union 62-53 with a last period rally for their second Union County League win Wednesday night at Milford Center. It marked the third straight win of the season for the undefeated Tigers.

Tom Shields paced the winners' attack with 21 points as Richwood overcame a three-point deficit in the final period. Twenty points in the final period to Union's eight gave the locals the victory.

High for the losers was Coe with 12 and Woodworth with 11. Union took the reserve game 47-35. Richwood treks to Marysville a week from tonight for its next encounter of the season.
